McDivitt and White Return to Their Alma Mater for Space Research Rites

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan welcomed back today two "old grads" known the world over. They are astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, returning in pomp and ceremony to the campus they left in 1959.

House Prepares To Vote on Post For Housing, UR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House gets another chance today to do what it twice has refused in the past — approve creation of a Cabinet-level department of housing and urban development.

With Democrats holding their biggest majority in years, party leaders were confident President Johnson's request for establishment of the new agency would be granted, although they conceded the outcome might be close.

Favored by LBJ

In his annual message to Congress last January, Johnson called for creation of the department to put urban problems and their handling by the federal government in the "front rank of government." He repeated the request in two later messages.

The new department would administer existing programs relating to housing and urban development and would be responsible for development of policies to foster the orderly growth of the nation's urban areas.

It would be headed by a secretary who would be at the end of the line of Cabinet officers eligible to succeed to the presidency in the event of the death or disability of the president, the vice president and other Cabinet members. One of four assistant secretaries would handle problems connected with private home mortgages.

No Clues on Man

Johnson has given no clue as to whom he has in mind to head the department if Congress approves it.

It was President John F. Kennedy's announcement of intention to appoint a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, to head the proposed department that led to rejection of the proposal in 1962. Weaver is head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which would be swallowed up by the new department.

Kennedy requested creation of the department in 1961.

Bill on Lottery Passes Senate, Sent to Assembly

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A Senate-approved plan for a state-operated lottery as a means of preventing tax increases in years ahead was sent to the Assembly today.

The Senate, taking the lead in a legislative effort to clear a massive backlog of bills, also passed and sent to the Assembly a controversial bill to legalize the sale of birth-control devices.

Indications were the Assembly would approve both measures.

The Senate action came Monday as the Legislature struggled to wind up its 1965 session by the end of this week.

But the prospect of final adjournment by Saturday was increasingly remote.

These were other developments, as a struggle over New York City finances continued behind the scenes:

Lottery—The Senate approved, 35-18, a proposed constitutional amendment that would authorize the Legislature to establish a state-operated lottery based on the outcome of selected horse races. Supporters said it would raise $400 million a year that would be earmarked for education.

Birth Control—The Senate approved, 41-13, a bill to legalize the sale of birth-control devices, with such sales limited to licensed pharmacies.

Recreation Program—The Assembly deleted from Gov. Rockefeller's plan for a $200-million bond issue to expand state recreational facilities a provision for tripling registration fees for pleasure boats.

Crime — The governor signed legislation establishing a centralized, electronic information bank for collecting and distributing to law-enforcement agencies throughout the state information on criminals and their methods of operation.

1959. They will help their alma mater dedicate a new $1.7-million Space Research Building.

The Gemini 4 crewmen, who circled the earth four days, were to be hailed in Michigan's 101,001-seat stadium and to receive newly created honorary degrees of doctor of astronautical science.

No. 1 of 606

Gemini pilot McDivitt was graduated No. 1 in a class of 606 when he won a bachelor's degree in aeronautical engineering here six years ago, and space-walker White was seventh among graduate students receiving a master's in the same field at the same time.

The two flew here from a tumultuous ticker-tape welcome back to earth in Chicago Monday. They were accompanied by families and parents.

Biggest Welcome

At Chicago, the cheering crowds which lined highways and crammed into stores and offices lining the route of the astronauts were described by officials as the largest public welcoming in the city's history. Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey also joined the celebration.

Civil rights leaders who had staged school protest marches last week in Chicago decided at the last moment to postpone a scheduled march. Earlier demonstrations had resulted in nearly 450 arrests in three days.

It was a week ago Monday that McDivitt, 36, and White, 34, splashed down in the Atlantic, America's newest heroes.

Most of their time since, except to receive from President Johnson Air Force promotions from major to lieutenant colonel, had been spent in dredging from memory the minute events of their flight for experts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Home Wednesday

Wednesday, McDivitt goes to nearby Jackson, Mich., to receive the plaudits of hometown folk, and White goes to his native San Antonio, Tex., for a similar reception, complete with parade.

Michigan pulled out all the stops for today's ceremonies. Gov. George Romney, on both airport and stadium welcoming committees, authorized a half-day off with pay for state employees in 11 surrounding counties.

The University of Michigan told both faculty and students morning class cuts were excusable.

Ceremonies were shifted to the gigantic stadium when a howl greeted plans to stage them in an auditorium on an invitation-only basis.

Parade Off

With the side change, officially credited to "tremendous public interest," plans for a parade were canceled. The astronauts, however, will go by motorcade to the university's north campus for dedication of the NASA-financed Space Research Building.

McDivitt said their Chicago parade past cheering thousands reinforced his deep feeling of "how insignificant one man, or two men are," and he credited Gemini 4's success to a "wonderful bit of cooperation by everyone in the United States."

"I feel," said White, "I'm a small part of a very big organization that made the flight possible, and that includes the plain man in the street. He's the man (Continued on Page 23, Col. 7)

Foreign Aid Bill Now In New Conflict Area

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid authorization bill moves into a new area of ideological conflict between the House and Senate this week.

Passed by the Senate 68 to 20 Monday night, the $3.24-billion-a-year bill contains these major provisions not in the previously passed House version:

A two-year authorization, rather than one year as in the past. House foreign aid leaders might not be too reluctant to go along with this, but it is coupled with:

A two-year deadline, under which the foreign aid program will terminate in its present form. A 16-member special commission would be set up to map the future of the program and make recommendations.

A far-reaching amendment giving the Organization of American States an important new role in channeling $25 million of U.S. military assistance out of the $55 million provided in the bill for Latin-American countries.

Conference Stated — A conference between the two houses to iron out a compromise is expected to start its work Thursday.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, heads the team of Senate conferees. Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., his House counterpart, undoubtedly will head the House team. Other members of the House group have not been announced.

Morgan clashed earlier this year with Fulbright's idea of changing the form of foreign aid by channeling more of it through international lending organizations like the World Bank, and also splitting the economic and military assistance in two.

Morgan said he was unalterably opposed to splitting the bill, and he prevailed in the House. The House report that accompanied the $3.27-billion House measure declared against any need to change the form of foreign aid.

Likely Major Point

Fulbright was unable to split the bill in the Senate, but he backed the plan for the two-year cutoff and revamping process. This is likely to be the major point of ideological contention between the two houses.

The OAS amendment, which grew out of criticism of U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic, was another Fulbright idea. It may win some friends in the House. It requires that future military aid to Latin America, even for internal security (Continued on Page 23, Col. 8)

Kaltenborn suffered a heart attack while visiting a son here. On his qualifications for broadcasting, Hans Von Kaltenborn once noted that the wife of the mayor of Fairbanks, Alaska, told him as they danced: "Boy, you're some suiter."

"I wish I could be as sure of a few things as that guy is about everything," a colleague once said after hearing Kaltenborn detail in his clipped, dignified accent the domestic and foreign policies that President Franklin D. Roosevelt would pursue in 1933.

Known for his ability to read a bulletin and quickly launch into an analysis of the story, he once said: "I would say whatever came into my head. However, I had my head trained so that I didn't get into too much trouble."

Kaltenborn never worked from a script. He said during an 86th birthday interview last July 9: "I always have to laugh at the boys now because they always have to get something written down before they go on the air."

Kaltenborn pioneered on-the-air news analyses in 1922. In January 1949, a few months after his surprise election victory over Thomas E. Dewey, former President Harry S. Truman told a public dinner in (Continued on Page 23, Col. 6)

Connecticut, but rain generally is still about 5½ inches below normal since Jan. 1. Some water restrictions are in effect. Nurserymen in western Massachusetts have stopped digging up plants, selling only trees and shrubs already on hand.

In New Jersey, Gov. Richard J. Hughes has declared a state of emergency in four northern counties and the city of Elizabeth to combat a critical water shortage. The restrictions include use of public water for car washing, watering of lawns and streets.

In New Hampshire, the outlook is reported gloomy for hay crops, especially in the western area of the state. The legislature was asked to approve a $100,000 contract for cloud seeding.

In some states, however, recent rains have helped tremendously. In Maryland, heavy rains rescued the state from what could have been severe truck crop damage in the millions of dollars. (Continued on Page 23, Col. 7)

Planes Hit Spans Close To Capital of North Viet

No Hanoi Bombings Indicated

LBJ Feels Present Raids Hurt Enemy

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told influential members of Congress he believes "U.S. air strikes have made it much more difficult for the North Vietnamese to reinforce the Viet Cong."

Johnson was represented by recent visitors as giving no indication of immediate plans to escalate the bombings by directing them at military installations around Hanoi.

Barry Favors Warning

Such a course has been urged by Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee. Goldwater has proposed that the United States warn the North Vietnamese that Hanoi, their capital, would be bombed unless they quit aiding Communist troops in South Viet Nam.

Johnson apparently hasn't given this proposal enough notice to comment on it even privately to the legislators he has briefed on the Southeastern Asia hostilities.

Some recent White House visitors said they noted a changed attitude on the part of the President. They said that while he obviously was deeply worried about the military setbacks the South Vietnamese forces have suffered in recent Viet Cong attacks, he had adopted what they described as an attitude of calm determination.

This contrasted, they reported, with intense presidential reaction in recent weeks to criticisms of his policies by some liberals and professors and in some segments of the press. Their conclusion is that Johnson has decided he has been paying too much attention to his critics.

General Discussion — This doesn't mean that he has lessened his efforts to enlist support from responsible members of Congress who have some reservations about where his course is leading.

The President had Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in for a briefing Monday. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey sat in. Fulbright has been against any massive escalation of the war.

All Fulbright would say was that there had been a general discussion of international matters.

Royal AF Hero Rejects Honor Awarded Beatles

LONDON (AP)—A Royal Air Force hero mailed his royal decoration—member of the Order of the British Empire — back to Queen Elizabeth II today because he objects to the Beatles getting the same honor.

Former squadron leader Paul Pearson said he meant no insult to the queen.

"I hope she will realize she has been tricked into making a political award by her ministers," he said.

Pearson, wartime leader of an air-sea rescue squad in the Straits of Dover, accused Prime Minister Harold Wilson of recommending the Beatles for the award as a vote-getting gimmick.

"The award has been cheapened and debased," he said. "Hundreds of thousands of people who served in the war must feel as I do."

Pearson is the second holder of the M.B.E. to send his insignia — a heavy silver cross — back to the queen in protest at the award to the Beatles.

Hector Denis, a former member of the Canadian Parliament, mailed his Monday, complaining he had been placed on the same level as "vulgar nincompoops."

The Beatles, one of Britain's big dollar earners, were given the award in the queen's birthday honors list last week. Although made in the name of the queen, the royal honors are awarded on the recommendation of the prime minister.

The Beatles were saying nothing about the controversy.

Battle of Dong Xoai Shows Plan

Gen. Vien Sees Cong Drawing In Americans

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The battle of Dong Xoai has brought the Vietnamese war to a threshold that many Vietnamese commanders are not anxious to cross — the first use of American combat units in battle.

It seems inevitable that U.S. units will soon be out on their own in full-fledged warfare with the guerrilla enemy. They were on the verge of that at Dong Xoai, and part of the U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade moved to within 20 miles of the fight.

They did not go in because Vietnamese generals did not want them. The brake was applied by Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien, commander of the Vietnamese army's 3rd Corps, who was responsible for the operation.

Deliberate, He Says — "I think the Viet Cong is deliberately trying to draw American units into this fight," Vien said.

A number of top American officials agreed. It looked as if a primary objective of the Communists at Dong Xoai was to force commitment of the U.S. paratroopers to battle and perhaps to inflict enough casualties to make the Americans look bad.

The American commanders seemed ready to take the risk. They were armed with prior approval from Washington. The Vietnamese felt the gamble was not worth making, that it was better to commit their own reserves. Two battalions of Vietnamese troops were virtually wiped out at Dong Xoai.

To Seek New Trial In Shrine Plot Case

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense attorneys say they will seek a new trial for three members of the Black Liberation Front who face up to 10 years in prison on convictions of conspiracy to blow up U.S. national shrines.

U.S. Dist. Judge William B. Herlands turned down moves to set aside the guilty verdict, reported by a jury of 11 men and one woman Monday night.

The three men, all New York City Negroes, were convicted of conspiring to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia — all government property.

They also were convicted of smuggling dynamite from Canada for the planned demolition. The three men could be sentenced to a maximum of five years in prison and a fine of $10,000 on each of the two counts in the indictment. They were jailed to await sentencing Thursday.

move into the war more actively is an old bugaboo of Vietnamese-American relations — national sovereignty.

Saugerties GOP Notices Hint at Power Struggle

The power struggle within the ranks of the Republican Party in the Town of Saugerties continued with new fervor this week as both sides announced meetings.

An announcement from the headquarters of the anti-Williams forces last Thursday stated that a meeting has been scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the VFW Hall, Livingston Street.

Open Forum — The meeting was advertised as an open forum and invited all interested Republicans. The meeting notice also said the open forums are being held to keep Saugerties a vital force in community and county politics.

The principal item of business is to present a slate of candidates as delegates to the Ulster County Republican Convention.

In other announcement Monday, the Town of Saugerties Republican Club has scheduled a meeting in the 10th Election District Thursday, June 24 at 8 p. m. in Mt. Marion Inn.

Sayeed, 22, on leave from electrical engineering studies at Howard University, Washington, D.C.

Also to be sentenced Thursday is Michelle Duclos, 26, a Canadian white woman who has been active in a Quebec Province separatist movement.

Miss Duclos pleaded guilty to smuggling dynamite from Canada in connection with the destruction plot and testified for the government at the 18-day trial. On the political scene, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, commander of Viet Nam's air force, is to be named premier heading a new war Cabinet, an informed source said. The war Cabinet is being set up by a committee of 10 generals headed by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu. It will replace the four-member cabinet of Premier Phan Hung Quat, who resigned Friday and returned to power to the military after a dispute with Chief of State Phan Khanh Suu and Catholic leaders.

No Dictatorship — Thieu, who served as defense minister in Quat's government, promised in a broadcast Monday that power would be turned over to an elected civilian government as soon as the Communists are crushed and peace restored.

The committee of generals has pledged not to impose a dictatorship but said the government will have close military supervision "until the war has been won."

230 Other Raids Hit Cong Areas

Report Ky Will Be Named Premier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Navy planes struck bridges 50 and 55 miles from Hanoi today and also hit other military targets in North Viet Nam.

Officials also reported that over a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m., 230 attacks were made on Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam.

No Report on Damage — In North Viet Nam, 19 U.S. Navy planes struck at a highway bridge 50 miles south of the Red capital, but there was no report whether the structure was damaged.

Ten other Navy planes bombed the Ninh Binh bridge 55 miles below Hanoi. The pilots claimed destruction of one of the three spans.

Other U.S. airmen claimed they knocked out a bridge and bombed out Highway 7 at a point 70 miles northwest of Vinh. They also reported damaging strikes against approaches to two bridges and three buildings at Dong Hoa airfield 21 miles southwest of Hanoi.

The pilots encountered only moderate ground fire and all returned safely, U.S. spokesmen said.

Eight Navy planes from the U.S. carrier Midway ranged before dawn over a 110-mile stretch farther south of Hanoi, hitting a barracks area, a truck convoy and a barge.

All Return Safely — All the planes returned safely to the Midway.

Vietnamese troops picked their way through the devastated Tuan Loi rubber plantation in the Dong Xoai region today and found the bodies of 39 paratroopers killed by the Viet Cong Saturday.

No contact was reported with the Communists. A total of 220 paratroopers still are missing following the battle of Dong Xoai.

The Viet Cong took the offensive 200 miles north of Saigon, driving militiamen from an outpost in Phu Bon Province. They retreated to a nearby town and with the help of the local garrison held off the attack, a U.S. spokesman said. No casualty report was available.

Yanks Return to Base — U.S. paratroopers at Phuoc Vinh 40 miles north of Saigon were reported moving back to their base at Vung Tau. The paratroopers had been flown to Phuoc Vinh just south of Dong Xoai to protect the airfield there.

Vietnamese troops reportedly were flown to Phuoc Vinh today to take over defense of the airfield from the Americans.

Reliable sources estimated government casualties in the Dong Xoai operation at 650, with half of these still missing.

At least 200 civilian casualties were reported at Dong Xoai. Many other civilians were reported killed and wounded at Tuan Loi village.

American casualties in the bloody battle were 7 killed, 11 missing and 15 wounded.

Estimates of Viet Cong killed range from 300 to 1,000, mainly from air strikes. About 40 Viet Cong bodies were discovered around Dong Xoai town.

On the political scene, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, commander of Viet Nam's air force, is to be named premier heading a new war Cabinet, an informed source said. The war Cabinet is being set up by a committee of 10 generals headed by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu. ## Northeast Faces Worst Drought In 70 Years Unless Rains Come

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe drought is plaguing most of the northeast United States, causing water shortages and threatening crops, an Associated Press survey shows.

"If we don't have about three weeks of rain, we'll have the worst drought in 70 years," says Herbert W. Peabody, of the eastern division of the Federal Extension Service in Newport, R.I.

One Rhode Island city, East Providence, has taken steps to curtail the use of water for watering lawns.

New York is one of the hardest-hit states. Crops are affected. Experts predict a situation similar to last year when 35 of 62 counties were declared drought-disaster areas.

In Onondaga County in central New York, the situation is the worst since 1907. Reservoir supplies are down 37 inches from last year.

Capitol News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment last month dropped to the lowest level in nearly eight years.

The Labor Department said Monday that 3.3 million persons were unemployed and 72.4 million were working. The unemployment percentage, seasonally adjusted, was 4.6 per cent.

The department said the brightest spot in its monthly figures was a continuation of the decline in long-term unemployment. It totaled 800,000, down 500,000 from last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Alan M. Thorndike of Brookhaven National Laboratory suggested Monday the government give university teaching a prestige boost by making annual awards for excellence.

He suggested 50 prizes of $10,000 each—25 in the sciences and 25 in the humanities—with the presentations made by the president at a dinner.

This, he said, would be "a constructive action in support of teaching."

Thorndike was one of six educators who appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee. The panel is examining effects of federal research grants on colleges and universities.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee plans to begin an inquiry into the Dominican Republic conflict within two weeks.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Monday that the sessions will include a general review of conditions in the Caribbean and throughout Latin America.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has exchanged messages with India's Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Shastri is visiting in Canada, and once was scheduled to come to Washington after his Canadian talks.

That meeting was postponed by Johnson, however. The President said he would be too busy at that time. A second invitation suggested a fall meeting, but Shastri said Monday in Ottawa that he would be too busy then.

Sources at the Indian Embassy in Washington said the message exchange was initiated by Johnson. They declined to reveal the content of the notes.

Ike Is Doubtful Of Global War—Be Ready Though

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, saying he does not think a global nuclear war is possible, has warned the elite graduates of the Army War College they should be prepared, should one come.

Eisenhower, speaking at Monday's graduation, conceded his view of the future was an optimistic one.

"I do not believe nuclear war is possible, at least on a scale generally known as global," Eisenhower said in extemporaneous remarks.

"But then it is human to be optimistic. If war should come again, the military must be ready."

The class of 205 graduates included Lt. Col. George S. Patton III, son of the famed tank commander, Gen. George S. Patton.

Rejecting U. S., British Capital Investor's Climate Falls Apart Rapidly in India

By CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI, India, (AP)—The American industrialist was discussing his chances of landing a huge contract in India. Millions of dollars were riding on the deal.

There was no enthusiasm in his voice, no thrill of the chase shown by Americans who are building dams, airports and factories all over the world.

"If I win," he said, "I lose." His dejection summed up the attitude of many Western businessmen in New Delhi: If lucky enough to win a contract, you may wind up losing money. For in the past three months, businessmen say, the "investor's climate" in India has deteriorated rapidly.

Overcome Moderates
They claim doctrinaire Socialists in Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's government have beaten down economic moderates who desperately tried to attract foreign private capital.

Joint ventures that would have poured American dollars and British pound sterling into India now are being rejected as symbolic of grasping, greedy economic imperialism.

Massive mounds of bureaucratic red tape are being thrown before hard-charging Western businessmen, despite their pleas that in business time is costly.

A worsening foreign exchange crisis is driving some Western firms to curtail operations or halt altogether.

India's reserves slipped last week to an all-time low of $162 million—enough for six weeks, according to one estimate.

Turning to Eastern Europe
To save hard currency, the government is turning to Eastern Europe, where Communist regimes are willing to deal in Indian rupees.

Earlier this month, the largest business deal on the Indian horizon fell through. After months of negotiations, the government rejected terms offered by a consortium of five American firms that had planned to provide $250 million to build five plants, produce fertilizer and get it to Indian farmers, whose food output now is far behind the appetites of their 480 million fellow countrymen.

The deal would have more than doubled American private investment in India and, they hoped, taken some pressure off the $6-billion U.S. economic aid program.

Some Western businessmen blame the aid program itself for stunting business prospects.

"The Indian government isn't going to buy my machines when the Americans give them free," said an official of a British firm.

Experts, however, feel the Indian government's attitude reflects a sudden fear that it was getting too close to capitalists.

Soviet Educator Blames Lies for Juvenile Problem

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet educator has blamed Russia's juvenile delinquency problem on "an atmosphere of lies, or even more pernicious, an atmosphere of half-truth."

The assertion was made by Vladimir Sukhomlinsky, a member of the Academy of Pedagogical Studies of the Russian Federation.

He published his views on this country's growing problem with wayward youth in an article in the paper Literary Gazette.

Sukhomlinsky echoed thoughts on the same subject published in the paper two weeks ago by Lt. Col. Vladimir Chvanov of the Moscow Police Department.

Chvanov demanded that young hoodlums be held personally responsible for breaking the law. He dismissed any notion that they should be regarded as unwitting products of their environment.

"A man should cultivate himself," the colonel said. "We are fighting successfully with the attitude of material parasitism, but moral parasitism is developed in this country to a much greater extent."

Sukhomlinsky enthusiastically supported this comment on Soviet society, saying:

Staatsburg Man Fined $6,500 For Tax Evasion

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Federal District Judge Edmund Port has fined Clyde K. Miller Jr., 53, of Staatsburg, $6,500 and placed him on probation for two years for evading more than $10,000 in federal income taxes.

Miller pleaded guilty May 10 to an indictment charging him with evasion of $10,172 in taxes. He was fined Monday.

Miller is president of Manor Farms Inc., raisers of rodents for hospitals, clinics, educational institutions and for other research purposes.

In another case, Joseph and Cross Nicastro, partners in a dairy operation in Frankfort, pleaded innocent to 11 counts of failing to report correct information to the New York-New Jersey federal milk marketing administrator.

They allegedly filed incorrect statements concerning the operation of their Riverside Farms between September 1959 and September 1963.

Birds of State Are Exhibited At City Library

Now on exhibit at the Kingston City Library is a special collection of the "Birds of New York State," provided by the New York State Museum at Albany.

The display, which is in the library's main lobby, features bird skins, a nest, and many new books and pamphlets from the collections of the Kingston City Library, Mid-Hudson Libraries and the Museum.

During the summer months the library will feature a number of exhibits on fossils, Indian masks and Indian artifacts, all courtesy of the State Museum.

Two Promoted At IBM Plant

GEORGE F. ABBOTT

FRED J. GUERRIERO

The promotion of George F. Abbott to engineering planning manager, communications, at the Kingston laboratory has been announced by the IBM Systems Development Division.

In his new position Abbott will be responsible for planning and coordinating advanced communications products. He reports to Eugene R. Potok, communications devices development program manager.

Abbott joined IBM as an advisory engineer in communications planning in the IBM development laboratory in Poughkeepsie in October, 1962, and transferred to the Kingston development laboratory as manager, line switching development, in August, 1963, a post he has held until his present promotion.

Abbott is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu and Alpha Sigma Lambda, engineering honor societies.

He is a graduate of Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering.

He, his wife Lillian and son George Mark, reside at Highpoint Drive in Poughkeepsie.

The promotion of Fred J. Guerriero of Poughkeepsie to laboratory administration manager at the IBM Systems Development laboratory at Kingston has been announced by Maurice A. Every, laboratory manager.

In his new position Guerriero is responsible for cost estimating, laboratory information, laboratory services, laboratory library, management systems planning, laboratory contracts, value programs and the project files in the Kingston Systems Development laboratory.

He joined IBM in March, 1948, as a clerk at IBM's corporate headquarters in New York where he was promoted to a senior accountant in 1949, and to technical assistant in the office of the vice president of engineering in 1956.

Guerriero transferred to Poughkeepsie in 1957, as manager of laboratory budgets in the product development laboratory. The following year he transferred to White Plains as a planning department, and returned to Poughkeepsie as a senior pricing representative in 1961.

He was named administrative assistant to the manager of systems planning and development in 1963, and one year later was named manager of plans and controls in that area.

He joined the Kingston organization on March 15, 1965, as administrative assistant to the laboratory manager.

Guerriero attended Sampson College and New York University.

He, his wife Evelyn and children Deborah and Thomas, reside at 9 Lori Street, Poughkeepsie.

Senators Prepare For Big Slashes In Excise Taxes

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators prepared today for quick action on a $4.7-billion excise tax cut bill which would remove nearly all of the excise levies left over from wartime and the depression years.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the tax measure, told a reporter he was hopeful the Senate could pass it by nightfall.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the assistant Republican leader, said he was confident Republicans would cooperate.

Long noted that the Senate Finance Committee had inserted into the bill a powerful incentive for speed. Under this amendment, the first-stage excise repealers would take effect on the day after President Johnson signs the bill; the House voted for a July 1 effective date.

The Louisiana senator said so far as he knew the administration was not going to renew in the floor debate its request that the Senate restore half of the auto tax, that is, retain a 5 per cent excise.

It made this plea to the Finance Committee but won only seven of the nine needed votes.

The House voted for repeal of the entire 10 per cent tax in a series of steps ending in 1969.

The Senate committee decided to condition the final four percentage points of repeal, in 1968 and 1969, on agreement by the manufacturers to install a list of 17 safety devices on their cars.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., author of this amendment, said he believed the Senate would retain it in the bill although he said the auto companies apparently were against it.

The Finance Committee also decided, at the request of Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., to retain a 1 per cent auto tax and earmark the $190-million yield for disposal of auto junkyards.

Masons, Knights To Visit World's Fair Together

Saturday, July 24, members of the Masonic fraternity and of the Knights of Columbus with their families will meet and visit together at the World's Fair in the spirit of friendship and mutual understanding. This joint announcement was made today by Supreme Court Justice Clarence J. Henry, of Rochester, grand master of Masons in the State of New York, and Herman P. Wolkenberg, of Middletown, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, both of whom will be present with their officers on this occasion.

Special arrangements are being made for those who wish to visit key exhibits from 9 to 11 a. m. on that day. The joint group will then assemble at the Auditorium in the New York City Pavilion, where brief, interesting ceremonies will be held.

The group will then proceed together to the Masonic Brotherhood Center, where the Masons will take Knights on a tour through their pavilion, following which the entire group will proceed to the Vatican Pavilion, where the Knights will accompany the Masons on a tour of that building.

It is expected that thousands of Knights and Masons with their families will gather for this unique assembly, and thus demonstrate to one another and to the world that in this land of freedom the theme of Brotherhood is not merely a dream, but can be a meaningful reality.

Arrangements for both groups are being made by Robert Emmott O'Farrell, state advocate, and Jeremiah Murphy, chairman, World's Fair Committee, of the Knights of Columbus, and former Court of Appeals Judge Charles W. Froessel, chairman of Masonic World's Fair Commission.

Summer Music Class

NEW PALITZ—Again this summer the New Palitz Central School offers a special opportunity to all pupils in the district who wish to continue their instrumental music lessons. Beginning lessons on all instruments will be given by Paul Steiner in the music room of the central school.

There is no better time than summer to begin the study of a formal musical instrument, or to make rapid strides in music study. Children have plenty of time to practice, and the instructor can give individual attention.

There will be no tuition charge, but there is a rental fee for students who do not own instruments. The rental fee will be according to the instrument desired.

Lessons will begin on Tuesday, July 6 to Friday, Aug. 20th.

Graduation Scholarship

The administration of New Palitz Central School announces that Robert Reid, of Reid's Heating Service has increased the amount of the graduation scholarship to $100. The scholarship is awarded annually to a senior planning to attend an institution of higher learning. The criteria for selection includes academic achievement, leadership, character, citizenship and service.

'Loyalty Oath' Being Relaxed In N. Y. Schools

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A controversial State University requirement—sometimes termed a loyalty oath—is being relaxed.

Under the Feinberg Law, enacted in 1949 to bar employment of subversives in public schools, the State University has required faculty applicants to sign a statement that:

—The applicant was not a member of the Communist Party.

—And if the applicant had been, he had notified the president of the State University of that fact.

Mooday, the State University board of trustees announced that the signed statement no longer will be required.

Instead, the appointing officer responsible for deciding whether to hire a particular individual will have the duty of determining whether he is qualified in all respects, including the terms of the Feinberg Law.

THE OPPOSITION VIEW
It is noteworthy that, despite the administration's intensive effort to persuade and overwhelm contrary viewpoints, there has been a steady rise of opposition to deeper involvement in the Vietnam war. One could safely bet that this opposition will increase further in response to official disclosure that American troops will henceforth take a much more active part in combat operations.

The two remaining curbs on full combat involvement—that the Vietnamese must ask our support, and that Americans will only fight alongside Vietnamese troops and not in separately planned operations—may be quickly abandoned if circumstances seem to warrant it. We appear to be only a step removed from widespread direct military participation. Once our troops are involved to that extent, the United States may be irreversibly committed to a course that might well lead to large-scale land war in Asia. That would be, in the starkest sense, a tragedy.

We have not reached that point. It is of the greatest importance that the American people should ponder this matter, and discuss it thoroughly. It is vital that those who find recent events disquieting—not only senators and professors, but others as well—should make their fears heard as effectively as possible.

To call for full expression of this viewpoint, which runs counter to recent happenings, is not tantamount to saying flatly that the administration is wrong. It may be right in its apparent conclusion that the only way to bring Hanoi around to the point of negotiating for peace is to crack down with our great military power. The main thing is that we not embark on such a course by default, as it were, because the opposition has not been adequately heard. We must decide how deep we want to go. If a halt is to be called, it must be done before escalation gets out of our control.

Stocks are skittish after hints of similarity between now and 1929. No one fears a depression, but there's some depression at thought of a possible recession.

The House Banking Committee votes to eliminate silver from coins. As prices rise, there also seems to be a move afoot to eliminate coins from pockets.

A poll shows support of administration policy in Vietnam rising. The next poll will ask how those who support the policy found out what it was.

CAR SHORTAGE AGAIN
That perennial bugaboo of the agricultural marketing system, a shortage of boxcars, is with us again. This year, explanations of the shortage are being given a new twist.

Floods on the Mississippi and in the Northwest have been producing traffic snarls which are partly to blame. But there's widespread agreement that the chief factor probably is what has been described as "the greatest peacetime boom in the nation's history." There is just too much merchandise on the move.

As a result, plywood mills in the Northwest are swamped with backed-up shipments, six of the biggest ones having been forced to close. In the coal belt, two big strip-mining operations have had to shut down for three or four days a week. In Kansas a grain company official needing 175 cars telephoned five railroads and could not get one car. Inland Steel of Chicago reports substantial increases in costs because cars to move its products are not available.

The railroads themselves are sharing in the loss. The Northern Pacific reported it had to turn away a million and a half dollars in freight because of lack of cars. A decline in the Rock Island's first-quarter earnings is attributed to the same cause.

The farmer's purchasing power rose in May to a high mark since early 1964. This still leaves him behind the general procession, but at least for once the prices he got rose a little more than did the prices

THE BOOBY-TRAP IN GROCERY PRICES

In pushing his campaign to substitute able-bodied U. S. citizens for migrant Mexicans and British West Indians on the farms of America, W. Willard Wirtz, the embattled Secretary of Labor, is laying all sorts of booby-traps for the party of Lyndon Johnson. The trouble that the Secretary is causing isn't widely apparent just yet. But, as Senator George Murphy of California keeps warning us, a revolt of significant proportions is blowing up. And since it involves every family's grocery bill, it will be much more than a California proposition.

It's a case of good intentions colliding with ancient habits and with certain facts of the calendar that Secretary Wirtz has not considered. The Secretary of Labor, with one eye on Poverty Czar Sargent Shriver's problems, has had a great vision. Quite commendably he wants to indoctrinate young Americans with ideas of discipline and a willingness to work. So we have a projected program for "A.T.'s"—or Athletes Temporarily Employed in Agricultural manpower. The Secretary has promised to take care of California's harvesting needs by shipping vacationing school kids from Texas at $50 a head, or from anywhere west of the Mississippi at a cost running up to $85 in transportation.

The trouble with this plan is that crops don't accommodate themselves either to the school year or to the average high school boy's staying power. At Blythe, on the Colorado River, the temperature in the summer fields is 115 degrees Fahrenheit. You pay a kid to come out there, not too many miles from Death Valley, and he wilts. By then it is too late to get somebody else.

But even if the kid stands up—and some school-boys have always worked in summer—he has to go back to school in September. This is the month in which the California harvesting season is roaring into high. In August, California farmers need 348,000 harvest hands; in September, they need 406,000. But the school athletic component of August's 348,000 will be pulling out after Labor Day to go back to playing football.

Because of the unconsidered factors in Secretary Wirtz's plans, Californians have cut their tomato plantings this year from 143,000 acres to 100,000 acres.

Since California accounts for 70 per cent of the nation's canned tomatoes, what this will do to the U. S. housewife next winter is enough to make Republicans happy everywhere. The loss in gross income to California's farmers because of the unplanted tomato acreage should run to $21,500,000.

The coming disaster in tomatoes means the pizza vote in addition to the votes of housewives and tomato growers. The housewives are already grumbling because of the rise in strawberry prices (up 30 per cent, wholesale, over a year ago), in asparagus (up 25 per cent), in Imperial Valley jumbo cantaloupes (up 33 per cent), and in iceberg lettuce (up 180 per cent).

To combat the mute propaganda of the wholesale price list, Secretary Wirtz's department has tried to blame the middleman for the rise in the cost of eating. Late in May the Secretary was contending that shipments of strawberries from California were a mere forty-six carloads behind. But the subsequent figures have been cruel to the Secretary, for by the beginning of June the strawberry shipments were off by 850 carloads, and on June 7 the figure had risen to 1,255 carloads. Since a carload is worth $4,550, what this means to growers and shippers as well as housewives is considerable.

Secretary Wirtz's combination of good intentions and plain bullheadedness has California's Democratic Governor Pat Brown going crazy in an attempt to balance things between loyalty to the Administration in Washington and his natural desire to please Californians. When asked what he thought of Wirtz, he said: "I think he does a good job, yes. I think it's very difficult. He's doing a different job from the one our Department of Employment thinks should be done, but it's not easy and he could be right. I think he's wrong, but he could be right."

This is the authentic voice of a man on the rack. The Governor of Florida is luckier than Pat Brown. For U. S. Attorney General Katzenbach, invoking his power over immigration, overruled Wirtz in the matter of permitting West Indian labor to stay on in Florida. Katzenbach said he didn't want to make things hard for Lyndon Johnson in Florida when he had Vietnam to worry about.

Several Treatments For Facial Neuralgia
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is there any cure for facial neuralgia except injecting or cutting the nerve?

A—Facial neuralgia, also known as tic douloureux and trigeminal neuralgia, is very painful. Various substances have been injected into the facial nerve to destroy it and of these boiling water is still the one most widely used. The injection of increasing doses of histamine in the hip has met with some success. This works best when combined with the temporary use of antihistamines and giving drops of dilute hydrochloric acid by mouth. Some doctors have given various anticonvulsant drugs with good results. About 10 years ago massive injections of vitamin B-12 in the hip were tried but despite enthusiastic reports by some observers this treatment never became popular.

Q—Do emotions affect the spleen as well as the adrenal glands?

A—Before the functions of the spleen were well understood it was supposed to be the seat of various emotions and so it has come to be synonymous with bad temper. It is now known to be one of the organs concerned with the production of red and white blood cells. Since it is not a gland of internal secretion like the adrenals, emotions would not exert any appreciable effect on its function.

Q—What causes fluid in the inner ear? Can it be cured?

A—The inner ear or semi-circular canals are organs that help you recognize your position in space (not outer space) and keep your equilibrium. Since they normally contain fluid, I must assume that what you want to know about is fluid in the middle ear, which lies just outside your eardrum and is connected with your throat. Infection in the middle ear (otitis media) will cause fluid (pus) to form there. This can usually be cured with penicillin and rarely requires puncturing the eardrum any more.

Q—What is Tenate? Is it harmful when used for a long time?

A—Diethylpropion (tenate) is given to suppress the appetite in persons who are overweight, especially if their weight is having an adverse effect on their diabetes, pregnancy or heart disease. When too large a dose is given there may be some dryness of the mouth.

Q—Can worry cause a stroke?

A—Not directly, but it can cause high blood pressure. This combined with hardening of the arteries may lead to a stroke.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

he had to pay. Still, all this could be offset if the farmer runs into a serious transportation lack, come harvest time. The urgency of a solution to the recurrent car shortage is greater than ever.

Murder by Mail

ROSS LEWIS, MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The longer the present junta vs. rebel stalemate continues in the Dominican Republic, the greater is the prospect that negotiators might go below the level of political irreconcilables to put together a mere caretaker government of bureaucratic technicians.

This notion has taken hold as the outlook for compromise among the Dominican contenders has grown progressively weaker. The gulf is simply too wide, and the attitudes on both sides too unyielding. A new approach is needed.

There is agreement, of course, that elections are the real objective. In the view of some Latin-American specialists here, taking account of the present impasse, this goal may now be best achieved in one of these ways:

1. Elections could be held in 30 to 60 days, with a minimum of preparation. This course might become sheer necessity if the Inter-American negotiators should find it impossible even to propose a caretaker government of technicians. Efforts in this field are still not much better than exploratory.

2. With some sort of interim government functioning, elections might be scheduled more reasonably for a period three to six months after the provisional leaders took the reins. This plan would have the advantage of allowing a real cooling-off among the Dominican's frayed-out contending forces. Hopefully, their passions would be channeled into fairly well-prepared election campaigning.

3. Should continued hotbeddedness make this avenue an impractical one, elections could be postponed until the official end—16 months from now—of the term to which the deposed, exiled Juan Bosch was elected as president. In the mercurial mix that constitutes Dominican politics, this much delay in elections is seen as risky. A far earlier start toward a new stability is regarded as advisable if it can be managed. Furthermore, it is accepted that Inter-American armed forces, with a large U.S. component, must remain on the island until after elections—and 16 months is a long time.

SENSITIVE TO CHARGES
From some quarters that administration men are, in effect, "black plotters" bent upon imposing plans of strictly U.S. manufacture upon the Dominican people, officials here insist "we have no plan."

The view offered is that the President and his Latin-American experts are prepared to accept any solution that genuinely moves the Dominicans toward a hopeful government of their own choosing.

To be sure, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker is on the three-man OAS team now exploring the whole range of prospects, but ambassadors from Brazil and El Salvador round out the group. It is argued that neither Bunker nor any other U.S. official will attempt to dictate the course of this endeavor.

A quick election, however, is clearly not an appealing solution here. The civil conflict on the island has so polarized political attitudes that some sort of party realignment now seems inevitable. A considerable span of time is thought to be needed for these adjustments.

Time may also be required for the Dominican people to sort out their notions about the kind of constitution they wish to live by. Documents adopted successively in 1962 and 1963 enjoy varying degrees of island support today, but to most citizens they are little more than crudely grasped symbols.

RESPONSIBLE OFFICIALS

SEE continuing peril in these and other uncertainties. While elections are the general goal on all sides, it is not imagined that they will magically produce leadership.

Nothing in Law About Hiring Minorities

Cooperation Is Only Answer To Settling Job Race Bias

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will the new federal law banning job discrimination spark a rash of court suits across the country?

Will employers have to hire a certain number of Negroes or other minority groups to comply with the law?

The answer to both questions, federal officials say, is an emphatic no.

The law forbidding employment discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex or national origin is heavily geared to persuasion and cooperation among federal and state governments, employers, labor unions and employment agencies.

Only after exhausting a long procedure will court action be taken as a last resort in any particular case.

"There is really no way to eliminate discrimination in employment by law," Asst. Atty. Gen. Norbert A. Schlei told a group of businessmen recently.

The law is needed, he said, but only the willing cooperation of "people like you" will make it work.

On the question of whether the law will require racial job quotas, Schlei and other officials point out this would be "discrimination in reverse."

The law specifically states that no one is required to give job preference to any minority group "on account of any imbalance which may exist with respect to the total number or percentage of persons of any race, color, religion, sex or national origin."

This was written into the law to quiet the most often expressed fear—that of job quotas—voiced during the debate in Congress.

How, then, will the law work—just what are employers, labor unions and employment agencies required to do?

The key to the operation of the law is the new five-man Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, headed by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Congress, in directing the commission to use "informal methods of conference, conciliation and persuasion" to eliminate job bias, backed it up with stiff penalties.

Any officer or employee of the commission who makes public any information about a preliminary investigation without the written consent of the parties can be fined $1,000 and jailed for a year.

This was designed to keep the heat of public pressure off a particular case during efforts to find a mutual solution short of court action.

But the prohibition on publication ends when a case gets to the stage of a formal hearing.

Today in History

Today is Tuesday, June 15, the 166th day of 1965. There are 199 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1215, the most important document of English constitutional history, the Magna Carta, was signed by King John at Runnymede.

On this date: In 1775, George Washington accepted command of the Continental Army.

In 1916, the Democratic National Convention nominated Woodrow Wilson for president.

In 1942, the U.S. Congress was addressed by King George II of Greece.

In 1945, the Allies announced the capture of German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop in Hamburg.

Ten years ago — The Philippines agreed that Japan should pay 500 million dollars in World War II indemnities.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower called off a visit to Japan after a violent anti-American demonstration in Tokyo.

One year ago — The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that districts represented in state legislatures must be substantially equal in population.

after conciliation and persuasion fail.

In 26 states which have laws forbidding job discrimination, anyone with a complaint must first exhaust the state procedure before asking the federal commission to step in.

This also applies where there is a local antidiscrimination law, even if there is no state law.

The commission must give the state or city 60 days (120 days in the first year) to act on a complaint before taking federal action. The commission can grant the state or city up to 60 days more if needed to get voluntary compliance.

If that doesn't work, a civil suit can be filed but the federal court can delay action another 60 days in a further effort to get voluntary compliance.

Some of the states have stronger equal employment laws than the federal statute. Delaware, Idaho, Iowa and Vermont, for instance, provide criminal penalties. The other states are Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Washington and Wisconsin.

Once a complaint under the new federal law runs the gamut of state or local procedures and federal efforts at voluntary settlement, it can finally wind up in federal court.

The federal commission cannot file a civil suit in federal court on its own. It must have an individual complainant who alleges discrimination.

But the U.S. attorney general can file a suit in any case deemed of sufficient public importance and involving a pattern of resistance to the law.

The commission can ask for reports on the racial makeup of a company's work force.

This already is required by the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity which combats discrimination in firms with federal contracts.

TV Reviews and Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News devoted an hour Monday night to a valiant effort explaining the student revolt at the University of California last December that started as a protest for free speech and ended with the arrest of about 800 students.

The focus of "The Berkeley Rebels" was on a few of the students involved in a big complicated situation — four of them to be precise.

Members of the university's "activist group," they all seemed dissatisfied with the quality of mass education — "The university has become a machine grinding out parts for society," declared one young mathematician. They questioned all adult society's values and standards and were suspicious of the conventions, including marriage.

It was a good earnest try, full of a lot of troubled young philosophical talk by the students. At the end this viewer felt as did one of the university professors who commented: "I'm not sure what they are trying to say."

The message, while loud, was not very clear.

Next season's television programs on the three networks will cost slightly more than $10 million a week, it is estimated by the television trade magazine, Broadcasting.

CBS has arranged a debate on U.S. policy on Viet Nam as a news special to be televised live next Monday evening (10-11 EDT) with McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to President Johnson for national security affairs who missed last month's televised "Teach-in," and two professors defending the administration's position.

Chief critic will be Prof. Hans

Morgenthau of the University of Chicago, abetted by two other college teachers. Eric Sevareid will moderate the Washington-based discussion.

1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners

Today's hand from the recent Great Lakes Regional in Grand Rapids was bid to game by every North and South pair and game was always made but there was considerable match point difference.

At most tables South played in four spades and made four when West opened his singleton heart and five when West opened his diamond suit.

A couple of South players opened one no-trump and were promptly raised to the no-trump game. We don't approve the no-trump opening. On rare occasions we do open one no-trump with a worthless doubleton, on many occasions with a five-card major suit, but never when we have both the worthless doubleton and the five card major.

Several South players reached the no-trump game after the bidding as shown in the box.

North's two diamond response was a temporizing bid that led easily to three no-trump after South rebid two no-trump.

In spite of the diamond bid West had no trouble selecting the king of diamonds as his opening lead. South held off until the third diamond and eventually made four no-trump because East held the ace of hearts and no more diamonds.

Top score went to one pair who reached three no-trump after a two club response by North—a raise to three clubs by South and a rather peculiar but highly successful three no-trump by North.

This left East on lead and he had a very natural opening of his fourth best heart whereupon North was able to take 11 tricks.

Library Study By Survey Team

Robert Ake has been named professional consultant for the Ulster County Citizens' Survey Committee for study of the Kingston City Library.

Ake, who is a nationally known authority on public libraries, recently became director of the Finkelstein Memorial Library which serves Spring Valley and the consolidated school district surrounding it in Rockland County. Prior to assuming this position, he had served many years as assistant director of the Enoch Pratt Library, the public library at Baltimore, Maryland.

Don Sager, director of the Kingston Library, said that Ake spent all day Friday discussing the problems of the library with trustees and staff, and members of the survey team. He also had the opportunity to see the other libraries now serving the Kingston Consolidated School District.

Later conferences will be held with regional and state library officials to study the matter of the local library service problem in depth. Ake's final report and recommendations will then be submitted to the Citizens' Survey Committee of Ulster County for approval and implementation.

The survey is actually studying the health, family and children's services, recreation and group work services and central services in the county. But because of the relation of the library to those activities, and its deplorable condition, it was included.

Tourists Still Visit Africa Despite Tumult

By LYNN HEINZERLING
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — It isn't all chaos and tumult in Africa.

Despite political maneuvering, revolts, coups and mutinies, the tourists have never stopped visiting Africa.

Big-game hunters went on shooting and taking pictures throughout army mutinies in Kenya and Tanzania last year. At the height of an army mutiny in the Congo, a party of 18 American tourists arrived in Leopoldville. They made their pictures, looked over the museum, the shops and the local life and continued the tour.

Communist Chinese weapons and ammunition are arriving regularly in Tanzania for a possible showdown with the remaining white rulers in southern Africa. The rate of tourist arrivals in Tanzania is up 30 per cent this year, a government official said.

In Mozambique, where the "freedom fighters" already are at work, hotel rooms at resorts are hard to find.

Where else can you take a taxi, ride 10 minutes and find yourself watching zebras, giraffe and ostriches at play and lions sleeping under a bush? They do it every day in Nairobi.

Colonialism is now a dirty word in Africa, but life hasn't changed much for the visitor.

You can expect almost anything in Africa.

For example, the drinking water in Beira, Mozambique, comes from the Pungwe River. The Pungwe River also is full of crocodiles and hunters are having a field day, since crocodile skin is selling for a dollar a square inch in France.

FROSTLESS

Only a Frostless eliminates any trace of "icing up" in both freezer and refrigerator sections. Only a Frostless does away with the mess and wasted time of defrosting... does away with it forever!

Today a 13-cubic foot Frostless costs just about the same as an old style 8-cubic foot refrigerator did in its day. BUT look at what you get today that you didn't get then!

• 60% more storage space INSIDE, same space outside! • Big zero-degree freezer • No defrosting ever • Safety doors • Convenient storage on doors • Economical operation • Foods stay fresher longer • You can do your own freezing • Zoned cold areas for different kinds of food.

Today's Frostless is a BIG bargain in convenience, in time saving, in the easier preparation of tastier meals. See your local dealer and ask for a FROSTLESS!

Road Could Take Sour Turn

House Attacks on Johnson Would Recall Truman Days

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans still don't sound unanimous or even happy although, split wide open in the 1964 presidential race, they suffered one of their worst defeats in history.

Since then they have been backing President Johnson's foreign policy, much to his satisfaction, while remaining rather peaceful themselves and among themselves.

It was never a peace that could last long, in a party divided into as many sharp factions as the Republicans, but even the peace such as it was is beginning to show cracks.

Four Stories
Four paragraphs, from four different stories in the news Monday, tell the story:

1. Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, one of the top Republicans in the House, warned Johnson "we may be dangerously close to ending any Republican support of our present Viet Nam policy."

2. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said his group will continue to "uphold the hands of the President" in Viet Nam, adding: "What else could you do in a situation of this kind?"

3. Former Sen. Barry Goldwater, whom Johnson defeated in the presidential race, in a radio-television interview said he feels Johnson should stop trying to be a general and let the military run the show in Viet Nam.

4. Republican organization leaders took a dim view of the projected formation of a new conservative organization to be headed by Goldwater as honorary chairman.

Backing Helps
While Johnson has been heckled for his foreign policy, particularly in the academic and artistic world, he has been able to operate with reasonable confidence because of the backing he got in Congress.

True, he has had some individual critics there, but on the whole Republicans lined up with the bulk of Democrats in supporting him.

But if Johnson and his policies begin to come under attack by just House Republicans, for whom Laird seemed to be speaking, his road will take a sour turn, reminiscent of what happened to President Harry S. Truman in the Korean war.

Republicans were constantly on his back then, calling it "Truman's war."

Johnson has had an extremely agreeable working relationship with Dirksen, who seems determined that the President must continue to get Republican support in the Senate at least.

Goldwater's view, that Johnson should let the military run the show in Viet Nam, in effect would let the military run American foreign policy in Asia, which is about as extreme a position as Goldwater could take.

But at least the Arizona is consistent. In the 1964 campaign, after saying Johnson should make it clear the United States will not pull out of Viet Nam, Goldwater said: "Now the next decision becomes based on military decisions. I don't think that's up to a presidential candidate or even the President. I would turn to my Joint Chiefs of Staff and say: 'Fellows, we made the decision to win; now it's your problem.'"

Not Third Party
Also in his radio-television interview Goldwater disclosed discussions about formation of the Free Society Association to "educate more and more American people to the values of the Republican party."

Some party leaders deplored the idea and envisioned a swarm of such groups, all seeking financial support from sources the GOP National Committee hopes to tap. But Goldwater said it wouldn't be a third party.

So, if the FSA is formed, there probably would be a wide-swinging intraparty struggle, which is unlikely to help get Republicans elected in 1966.

Rocky Signs Bills To Improve Local Police Services

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Police agencies in New York State will have an electronic pool of criminal information available and an advisory group to improve local police service under two bills signed by Gov. Rockefeller.

One measure, signed Monday, established the Identification and Intelligence System.

The other bill sets up within the office for local government a division of police administration services that will offer advisory services to more than 600 police agencies.

While Rockefeller was signing into law the links in his anti-crime program, the Assembly all but blocked floor action on a so-called anti-integration bill.

By a vote of 52-56 Assemblymen refused to order the Judiciary Committee to release for floor action a bill that would have made it unlawful to compel attendance at a school for the purpose of achieving integration.

In other legislation Monday,

The Assembly approved, 127-1, a bill that would permit school districts to appeal to the Board of Regents rulings by the state commissioner of education — now final — involving school district organization.

The Assembly passed, 91-38, and sent to the Senate a bill that would exempt property owned by medical societies from real estate terms throughout the state. The present law exempts the land in cities of 175,000 or more population.

Minority Republicans gave most of the support to the unsuccessful effort to bring the school-attendance bills to the Assembly floor.

Four Are Appointed To Research Group

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The president of the State University of New York and three industrial executives have been appointed to the State Advisory Council for the Advancement of Industrial Research and Development.

Gov. Rockefeller announced Monday the selection of Dr. Samuel B. Gould of Albany, Dr. Alfred H. Nissam of Scarsdale, Dr. John A. Leermakers of Pittsford to the unsalaried posts.

The appointments brings the council membership to 41. Gould is president of the State University and succeeds the late Dr. Hector A. Shifton of Deer Park on the council.

Nissam is corporate research director of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. Leermakers is vice president and director of research laboratories of Eastman Kodak.

Sauer is executive vice president of the Xerox Corp. of Rochester.

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP)—A search for 10 persons missing after Friday's flood ended Monday night. The missing were presumed dead, making the toll

"There's no place left to search," said Terrell County Sheriff Bill Cooksey. "More bodies are going to be found by chance from time to time, and others won't ever be found," he said. Sixteen bodies have been recovered since a 15-foot wall of water swept down Sanderson Canyon early Friday. Seven men on foot followed the canyon through rough country 20 miles south as far as the Rio Grande. An Army helicopter flew the same course and continued 30 miles down the Rio Grande. Searchers found about a dozen cars, some as far as three miles downstream from the town. Ambergis is obtainable from the sperm whale.

VFW Auxiliary Hears About VA Hospital Plans

Participation in the Fourth of July celebration and a bedside games for the hospitalized vets are among the projects outlined for next month during last week's meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW.

The group voted to enter an appropriate float in the Jaycees sponsored parade, plus the VFW color guard. Chairman of the float committee is Mrs. Marie Sheehan.

Bedside games will be conducted at Castle Point Hospital Wednesday, July 14. Since the event is scheduled on the regular meeting night of the Auxiliary, the meeting will be held a week earlier on July 7. Cars will leave the Hall at 5:30 p. m. All who can be asked to attend to man all the wards of the hospital, Saugerties VFW is responsible for the entire operation.

In her year-end report, Mrs. Ruth Prendergast, hospital chairman, quoted the following statistics: $1,237.97 spent in money and value of hours, $51; $1,317.90 in supplies and value of goods; 213 visits for a total of 807 hours; 8 parties including the carnivals, Halloween and St. Patrick's Day, Social Games, VFW Day and Christmas.

The members are reminded to bring a covered dish for the June 19 affair at the Hall. Mrs. Peggy Wade, president, also suggested that a letter of thanks be sent to the President for preventing Castle Point from closing.

Mrs. Wade thanked her officers and chairmen for their work during the past year.

The Auxiliary will give its annual $5 award to two girl graduates for exemplifying outstanding citizenship.

A successful Blood Bank drawing was held on Thursday, according to the chairman, Mrs. Helen Gardner. The Shea Stadium bus trip was also successfully completed Sunday.

Reports on the Hudson Valley County Council and Memorial Day observances were given.

Holy Name Group Has Communion Breakfast Sunday

Holy Name Society of Saint Mary's of the Snow held its annual Communion Breakfast Sunday at the parish school cafeteria.

The Rev. Charles Koerber gave an excellent talk on "Children." It was enthusiastically received by those attending.

John "Bud" Smith gave a report on the society's auction. He stated that it was both a social and financial success. He thanked the many workers and emphasized the generosity of the local merchants and people who donated items to be auctioned.

Joseph DiDomenico, outgoing president, gave a report of the year's activities, particularly pointing out the excellent cooperation he received from the officers and members, and the many projects completed by the society.

Robert Schnell, president-elect, spoke briefly and presented DiDomenico with a past president's pin.

854TH ENGINEERS AT CAMP—Members of Headquarters Company, 854th Engineers, U. S. Army Reserve are assembling an antenna at Camp Drum during two weeks active duty training. About 530 officers and enlisted men of the 854th Engineers Battalion left last week for Camp Drum near Watertown and will return to the home base at the Staff Sgt. Robert H. Dietz USAR Center, Flatbush Avenue, next weekend. Assembling the antenna here are (l-r) SP4 John G. Grant of Saugerties, and Pvt. Raymond B. Cord Jr., of Peekskill.

Silver Tea Gives E. R. Finger Home Financial Boost

The warmth and generosity of the people of Saugerties was evident once more at the silver tea given to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the Ellen Russell Finger Home. The event Sunday, was a huge success in terms of people present and donations received.

Members of the Home gratefully acknowledged the following gifts: Bedspread, sheets, pillow cases, towels and wash cloths from the Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church; sheets, pillow cases, bedspread, towels and wash cloths from the Women's Guild for Christian Service of Saugerties Reformed Church; picture and two chairs from Mrs. Arline Schirmer; pillow cases, Mrs. Hazel Ransom.

Donations of money were received with appreciation from the following people: Mrs. Joseph Rainear in memory of Mrs. C. B. Haviland; Mrs. Ethel Ballard in memory of Mrs. Irving Ballard; Mrs. Edward Terpening in memory of Mrs. G. Sutton; Mrs. Margaret Ruth Smith in memory of Mrs. May Faulkes Renison; Mrs. Audrey VanKleeck in memory of Mrs. Ethel Krom; Miss Lottie Nicholas, Miss Nellie Brown, and Miss Isabel Myer in memory of Mrs. Harriet Myer; Mrs. E. B. Bond in memory of Mrs. Florence Kolb and Mrs. Martha Bond; Mrs. Bess Kaufman.

Also Mrs. Arline Cody Schirmer, Mrs. Frances Bayer, Mrs. Thomas Tyrrell, Mrs. Phoebe Johnson in memory of Mrs. Phoebe Jane McFarland; Mrs. Richard Marchant in memory of Mrs. James Dederick; Mrs. Arthur Ransom in memory of Mrs. Angeline Babcock; Mrs. Jack Pakenen in memory of Mrs. Valentine Wiesner; Mrs. Stanley Olsen in memory of Mrs. Sofia Olsen and beloved aunts, Mrs. Agnes M. ## Realtors to Meet Thursday Night

The Ulster County Board of Realtors will hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 7:30 p. m.

President Robert Kershaw will appoint a nominating committee at this meeting. The committee will make a report at the September meeting and election of officers will be held.

There will be important matters discussed at Thursday night's meeting which will be of interest to all members of the board and it is urgently requested by President Kershaw that all members make a special effort to attend.

There will be no meetings during July and August.

Burglary Attempt

Local police reported a burglary attempt early today at the Fowler & Keith hardware store, 20 East Strand. A report at 2:33 a. m., noted that the burglar alarm was ringing, and police believe it scared off the person or persons involved. A glass in a rear door was found broken. Another apparent burglary attempt was reported Monday at the Ballard Oil Company Inc., 274 East Strand, where a door glass was found shattered.

Too Many Candidates

MUNFORDVILLE, Ky. (AP)—David Stewart, the incumbent county clerk, figured out a way to keep candidates from wasting their campaign cards on each other. Stewart, one of 57 who entered the May primary, had buttons made which read: "DON'T SHAKE MY HAND—I'M A CANDIDATE TOO."

$68,940 Is Ulster State Aid Share

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today announced the distribution of $68,940.18 as the quarterly per capita state aid payment to Ulster County.

A sum of $5,170,032.63 comprised the initial installment of the newly enacted per capita assistance program to the 57 counties in the state outside New York City.

Mendelssohn Club to Host Massed Concert in 1968

Word has been received that The Mendelssohn Club of Kingston will host the 1968 Mohawk-Hudson Male Chorus Association's Annual Massed Concert, it was announced today.

Edward L. Sprute, club president, and Charles Telleur and Richard H. Uhler, club governors, said that the club met in executive session to outline plans for the concert and to make plans for activities this fall.

Sprute said that, "We are all working with a deep sense of dedication to a high level of musical leadership in the community in which our Mendelssohn Club must share, and to which it must continue to contribute. In no sense, in our increased efforts, will the rich musical history and tradition of our prominent old Mendelssohn Club will be lost. Based upon it, we are now striving to present a Mendelssohn organization that will reflect fairly the musical interest and intellect of our community today.

Sprute further indicated that Mendelssohn voices of traditional high quality will be joined in a personal sense of good fellowship. "Our members feel that good music can result only if a deep sense of personal fellowship also is present," he said. The 1965-1966 season is being built upon the expected minimum membership of 50 voices. The Mendelssohn Chorus draws its voices from men of all walks, each one with a firm sense of commitment to good choral music. The Club is now entering its 63rd year as a noted musical influence in the community.

The Club's recent executive session provided for a highly developed season of activity. Also under consideration is a plan to provide tapes of Club Concerts to be used for a program of "at-home performances" for the disabled and chronically ill, and for associate members unable to attend concerts.

The club's officers and committees include: Edward L. Sprute, president; Richard H. Uhler, vice president; Otto Havlin, secretary; Edward J. Heaney, treasurer; the Reverend Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain; and Charles and Gus W. Telleur, librarians. Sprute, Uhler and Charles Telleur were elected governors, and Joseph Flowers, Richard Stigbert and William A. McBride, executive directors. Committees and workers include: Charles Selzo, John Lathrop, Ralph Swenson, E. Robert Johnson and Raymond Peterson, active membership; William E. Ryland and Ray Myers, publicity; William Wood, Kenneth Milham, Sr. and Floyd Vogt, fellowship; John Breithaupt, Edward Heaney, Arthur Oliver and R. Wallace Fulford, social; Irving Levine, J. Paul Whitten, Edward Cherney, guest artist; Frank Elmendorf and Dr. Julian Gifford, finance; Arnold Reynolds, booking agent; and Willys Ryder, associate membership.

Brian Steeves was appointed chairman for the music program and Raymond Gilkey for printing. Willys Ryder was appointed Mendelssohn Club Historian.

Bicycles Ready For Owners or City Hall Auction

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today advised local youngsters who have lost a bicycle or had one stolen during the year to inspect a collection of some 15 at police headquarters, City Hall, before Saturday morning when the annual auction is to be held.

Those who properly identify bicycles may claim them before the auction which is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. and will be conducted by a member of the department. The bicycles have been picked up by police in various areas of the city during the year.

Reach Maritime Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Marine engineers reached a contract agreement with a second ship-owners association today as a midnight deadline approached for a possible maritime strike. A federal mediator said the AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association signed the agreement with the Tankers Service Committee, representing 16 tanker companies operating 65 vessels. Previously, an organization representing 70 operators of 300 ships had signed.

Has New Havana Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A brother of Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos has a new political job at the University of Havana. Havana Radio said today that Dr. Raul Dorticos, dean of the university medical school, was named to head the school's unit of Cuba's only political party, the United Party of the Socialist Revolution.

MAKING FALL PLANS—Officials of The Mendelssohn Club met to outline plans for fall activity and future arrangements to host 1968 Mohawk-Hudson Male Chorus Association's Annual Massed Concert. ## Board Named For Rhinebeck Home for Aging

Election of a board of directors and preliminary plans for expansion of facilities at the Ferncliff Residence for the aging in Rhinebeck, have been announced by Auxiliary Bishop George H. Guilfoyle, executive director of New York Catholic Charities.

Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mother M. Angeline Teresa, Mother General of the Carmelite Sisters for the Aged and Infirm, have been elected president and vice president of the board, respectively; the Rev. Patrick J. Carney, Dutchess and Ulster County Director for Catholic Charities, was elected treasurer and Mother Armand Marian, administrator of the home, secretary.

Members of the board include Mrs. Vincent Astor; Samuel Lloyd, 5 Somers Drive, Rhinebeck; Chauncey Stillman, Amenia; Robert Marvin, 55 Parsonage Street, Rhinebeck; Bishop Guilfoyle, and the Very Rev. Msgr. Edward D. Head, director of social research for New York Catholic Charities.

The home for the aging which is staffed by the Carmelite Sisters for the Aged and Infirm, was opened in the main house of the former estate of Mrs. Astor, who made a gift of the property to the Archdiocese of New York in December, 1964.

Preliminary plans for expansion of the home's present accommodations through construction of new facilities designed to meet the special needs of the aged are being drawn up by De Sina and Pellegrino, architects.

Ferncliff Residence is one of 11 homes for the aging in the Archdiocese affiliated with New York Catholic Charities. The Archdiocese of New York incorporates the boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx and Richmond as well as the seven Hudson River Valley counties extending from Westchester to Ulster.

Applications must be filed no later than Aug. 20. One vacancy exists in the county auditor's department. Applications may be secured at the office of the County Civil Service Commission, County Office Building, Main and Fair Street, or by writing to the commission, UPO Box 172, Kingston.

The list resulting from this examination will also be used for appointment to appropriate vacancies as they occur in Ulster County offices or departments.

Candidates must meet the requirements of one of the following: 1—Three months experience as a telephone switchboard operator and completion of a standard high school course; 2—a satisfactory equivalent combination of training and experience.

Subjects of the examination will include a written test which will cover clerical aptitude, simple record keeping and principles of good telephone service.

Tone Takes Over Starring Role on Ben Casey Series

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — So it's goodbye, Dr. Zorba; hello, Dr. Freeland.

Wild-haired Sam Jaffe has scrubbed up for the last time on "Ben Casey," the long-run neurosurgery show. He has bequeathed his scalpels and specimens to his one-time fellow player in the group theater, Franchot Tone.

Looking mature but dashing at 58, film veteran Tone has slid into his new position with ease. Long a holdout against a television series, he accepted his new post "because I want to work at my profession."

Why the switch from Jaffe to Tone? It was no secret that Sam had become disenchanted with his often desultory duties on "Casey." Tone reported that Jaffe scrutinized the small print in his contract, discovered his option had been picked up two days too late, and said, "So long, fellas."

Tone was vacationing with his brother in Florida when this happened. He received a call from his New York agent, who had heard from his Hollywood agent, who had been contacted by Bing Crosby Productions, which makes "Casey."

Would he be interested in teaming up with Vince Edwards on "Casey"? Tone said yes and is now here to assume his role as Dr. Daniel Niles Freeland.

"I had refused series for years," he explained, "because I wanted to remain in New York to be near the theater. But lately there haven't been enough plays worth doing. I turned down more guest shots on television than I accepted. Parts in films were few and small in nature — cameo shots, they are called."

"I like my profession. Since there is not enough work elsewhere, I can work at it here, where I have a chance to test my abilities. It's better to know that you have a challenge than to sit on your rear and wait."

AT TESTIMONIAL FETE—Among those attending a farewell testimonial reception at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church last night for the retiring pastor are (l-r) Thomas W. Miller, lay leader; Lawrence M. Jensen, chairman of the pastoral relations committee; the Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, pastor, and Mrs. Edwards; Mrs. Werner and the Rev. George P. Werner, superintendent of Hudson North District of the New York Methodist Conference. The Rev. Mr. Edwards will retire from full time active ministry in the New York Conference Sunday, June 20. (Freeman photo by Kruth)

Clinton Avenue Church Honors Retiring Pastor

The Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, retiring pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, and Mrs. Edwards were honored at a testimonial reception Saturday night at Epworth Hall. There was an overflow attendance of church members and friends at the informal buffet and reception.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards, who is 72, has been minister of the 110-year old church since June, 1961. He will retire from full time active ministry in the New York Methodist Conference Sunday, June 20.

The invocation was given by the Rev. George P. Werner, superintendent of the Hudson North District of the New York Methodist Conference, who lauded the service to the ministry given by both the Rev. Mr. Edwards and his wife.

Lawrence M. Jensen, chairman of the pastoral relations committee, extended a welcome and introduced honored guests including Mrs. Werner, wife of the district superintendent and their daughter, April; the Rev. and Mrs. Richard R. Guice of Trinity Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Yosman, Mrs. Yosman is church secretary.

Greetings were sent by the Rev. and Mrs. C. Pershing Hunter of St. James Methodist Church, the Rev. and Mrs. William Peckham of Woodstock, the Rev. and Mrs. William Jones of Ravena and Edwin Healey, church sexton, who were unable to attend. The Rev. Mr. Peckham, former pastor of Clinton Avenue Church, has been serving as guest minister during the long illness of the Rev. Mr. Edwards. The Rev. Mr. Jones also assisted as guest preacher during that time.

Thomas W. Miller, lay leader, spoke on behalf of the congregation and expressed gratitude of members and friends of the church to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards. A purse was presented to the pastor by Mr. Jensen.

Special music was presented by the chapel choir under the direction of Mrs. Janice Gaines with Mrs. Louise Francis as pianist and the chapel choir under the direction of J. Anthony Hummel with Mrs. Edna Rignall as pianist. Benediction was given by the Rev. Mr. Guice.

The buffet and testimonial were arranged by members of the pastoral relations committee. Mr. and Mrs. Burton F. Giles were in charge of the buffet. Mrs. Oscar V. Newkirk, dining hall; Harold Francis, ticket arrangements; Warren Smith, program. Mr. Jensen was general chairman.

After retirement, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will reside in their new home, 21 Lancaster Drive, Newburgh.

Weather Squadron Captain Has Vital Role in Viet Nam

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Weather is one of the most important words in war.

Every American over here talks about the weather — usually in complimentary terms — but Capt. Norman F. Jacobs is one of the few who does anything about it.

He forecasts it. He also can explain the vagaries of the two monsoon seasons over here, which have most people baffled.

As commander of Detachment

9 of the 30th Weather Squadron, Jacobs has a vital role.

In war, both ground and air operations are to a great degree dependent on the weather, and it is his onerous task to predict it accurately as far in advance as possible.

In the operations office of the big Da Nang air base, the captain, 32, who comes from Los Angeles, directs 22 American and Vietnamese Air Force helpers. He also works closely with 20 employees of the nearby Vietnamese civilian weather station.

Every morning and evening at 8 o'clock they send up a large transmitter-carrying balloon which rises to a height of 80,000 feet as it sends down data on wind and temperature.

"At those same hours other balloons are sent up at hundreds of weather stations around the globe," said Jacobs.

"Thus we get an instantaneous picture of the atmosphere throughout the world. The balloons stay aloft 1½ to 2 hours, then expand and burst. Sometimes one of them will fall into our ammunition area — and then there's a little excitement."

About 150 feet off the runway Jacobs has an air-conditioned, glass-walled observation shack which he describes as one of the most modern installations in Southeast Asia.

"It operates as the weather does — 24 hours a day," he said. "We send out hourly reports regularly, but sometimes, as often as every 10 minutes."

Now, about those mysterious monsoons.

Most people think South Viet Nam has two seasons: The dry season, when the country is like an arid desert, and the monsoon season, when the skies open and flood down rain in torrents for six months.

The Viet Cong are supposed to welcome the monsoon season, because the bad weather keeps our fighter planes down and they can attack us with less risk of punishing air strikes.

Well, it isn't quite that simple. In a tropical climate such as this we can expect an afternoon rain in any part of the country at any time of the year, including the so-called dry season," explained the meteorologist.

"The word monsoon merely means weather caused by winds. There are two monsoons, not one."

"In the summer monsoon the winds blow from the southwest and it rains heavily around Saigon and the delta region."

"But by the time the winds reach Da Nang, several hundred miles to the north, the mountains have wrung out most of their moisture. So it is comparatively dry up here."

"During the winter monsoon the situation is reversed. The winds blow from the northeast and dump heavy rains on Da Nang and smaller amounts of moisture around Saigon."

"But throughout the entire country some rain normally falls in every month of the year."

That means, whenever stormy weather appears, the enemy can plan a surprise attack in any part of South Viet Nam at any season, and they do.

Any questions about monsoons? If so, please address them to Capt. Jacobs.

Constables Are To Hold Buffet, Dance Saturday

A buffet and dance sponsored by the Town of Ulster constables will be held Saturday night at Elmer's Inn Ruby.

Chairman Nick Marino and his committee consisting of Norman Caunitz, Lee Robinson and Calvin Swart have announced that Tom Falocco and his "Merry-makers" will provide music for dancing from 9 p. m. to 2 a. m. There will be awards during the evening. From indications, Marino said, a record attendance is expected.

Final details for the buffet supper and dance will be made Wednesday at the regular monthly meeting of the constables to be held at Grange Hall, Lake Katrine, at 8 p. m.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Your youngster's love for the telephone increasingly is carrying right through to the college years. And the rapid increase in the number seeking higher education is affording new growth for the nation's telephone industry.

As the colleges and universities expand so do the communities in which they and their branches are located. This, too, means more business for the phone company, whether it be the Bell System or the 2,500 independent companies. Many of the latter serve the smaller communities where small colleges are booming with the teenage population explosion.

In rapidly growing education institutions private automatic branch exchanges are being installed to serve dorms and faculty offices. Data transmission networks now link the several campuses of many college or universities.

Lectures by phone from a distant city are a commonplace of the new education. So is closed-circuit television instruction over phone lines serving students in many classrooms.

Today's more affluent college students — now estimated to spend around $4 billion a year for necessities and conveniences beyond tuition and dorm fees — are demanding more phones and using them more, both locally and long distance.

Phone companies are offering both this general service and some highly specialized ones.

Example: In central Texas five universities are linked with a circuit that provides access to their collective store of two million books through interuniversity library cards issued to faculty, staff and graduate students.

A wanted book can be located almost instantly in one of the five schools. The universities are: North Texas State and Texas Woman's, both at Denton; Southern Methodist and University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, both at Dallas; and Texas Christian at Fort Worth. How business is growing as colleges expand is shown in Illinois. The General Telephone Co. of Illinois has burgeoned along with Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and Edwardsville.

New conduit systems this year serve 800 new dorm room phones. A leased circuit provides voice transmission between the two campuses by day. By night it is used for data transmitters and for computers.

SON'S FIANCEE IS ORPHAN

Q: My son was recently engaged to a young woman whose parents are not living. His fiancée lives with a married sister. I know it is customary for the man's parents to call on the girl's parents after the engagement has been announced, but as her parents are not living, I would like to know if it is necessary for my husband and me to call on the bride's married sister. She is years younger than we are.

A: It is not necessary for you and your husband to call on the sister of your son's fiancée, but you should write a letter telling her how happy you are about the engagement and inviting her and her husband to tea or dinner so that you may meet them.

Dressing on Board Ship

Q: My husband and I are planning to sail to Europe next month. This will be our first ocean crossing. I would like to know if evening clothes will be necessary on board ship.

A: If you are traveling first class, on a luxury liner, you will find that many people dress in evening clothes—tuxedos for the men and dinner dresses for the women—every night except the first on board. This is not necessary, however, except on the night of the Captain's party, and cocktail dresses and business suits are acceptable on other evenings.

Monogramming Table Linen

Q: I received several very lovely tablecloths at my shower and I would like to have them marked. Will you please tell me where the monogram is placed? A: Long tablecloths are marked on either side of center, midway between table center and the edge.

College Theatre Of Drama, Dance Lists Programs

Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y. — The Bard College Theatre of Drama and Dance announces the final production of its 1964-65 season. Running from Friday, June 18, through Monday, June 21, will be two triple bills, J. M. Synge's The Tinker's Wedding supported by two different pairs of student-directed one-act plays.

On June 18 and 19 the one-act plays will be A Game of Chess by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman and Santa Claus by E. E. Cummings; on June 20 and 21 a Marriage Proposal by Anton Chekhov and The Duchess of Pavy by John Ford.

All performances will be held in the Bard College Theatre and will begin at 8:30 p. m. Admission is free, but reservations should be made in advance by mail, addressed to Box 284, Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Planned for all four nights of the run, The Tinker's Wedding is a rollicking folk comedy of the Western Isles. It will be directed by Charles Kakatsakis, Assistant Professor of Drama at Bard. The student-directed one-act plays, A Game of Chess, Santa Claus, A Marriage Proposal and The Duchess of Pavy, include everything from twentieth century poetic symbolism in Santa Claus to Jacobean tragedy in the shortened version of Ford's The Duchess of Pavy. They will be directed by Spencer Mosse, Joan Elliott, Kevin FitzPatrick and Pamela Dendy respectively.

St. Remy Brownies Have Fly-Up Rites

Brownie Troop 94 held its final meeting of the season at the St. Remy Firehouse recently. Guests in attendance were the Junior Girl Scout Troop 159 of Ulster Park and several mothers and fathers.

After the Pledge of Allegiance, Peggy Vandemark read a portion of Makers of the Flag by Franklin K. Lane. When the Brownie and Girl Scout Promises had been made, Mrs. William Daum, leader of the Junior Girl Scout Troop, read To Juliette Low by Birdsell Otis Edey. Service stars were then awarded to the following Brownies:

Laura Coffey, Elsa Daum, Audrey Fredregill, Diane Gether, Luisa Granitto, Leona Gromoll, Nancy Gromoll, Judith Helmich, Susan Jordan, Sandra Holt.

Also, Jane Kirk, Jean Manganiello, Christy McElhaney, Dorothy Miller, Terry Markle, Rose Ann Planque, Amelia Rockwell, Annette Romano, Debra Snyder, LuAnn Terpening, Peggy Vandemark, Elaine Wiltse. Brownies who have passed over the stepping stones of Discoverer, Ready Helper and Friendmaker to become Junior Girl Scouts were awarded their

fly-up wings. They were:

The new Junior Girl Scouts, together with Troop 159, then renewed their Promise. Each new Junior read a stanza of a poem pertaining to the ten Scout Laws. All then formed a Friendly Circle and sang. Refreshments were served by the Brownies. Mrs. Jensen is the leader of Troop 94 and Mrs. Harold Coffey is the assistant leader. Mrs. William Granitto also assisted in handing out the awards.

Post 150 Will Elect Tonight, Awards for 13

Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, which will elect new officers tonight, received a national citation during the annual county meeting in New Paltz Monday night.

Tonight's annual session is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock at the Post Home, 18 West O'Reilly Street. Commander Albert O. Sonnenberg, who will preside at his final meeting, requests a large attendance.

Another feature of tonight's meeting will be the awarding of consecutive year membership cards to 13 members.

Those to be honored include: Chester D. Fox, 10 years and the following 20-year members: Francis A. Bruno, James Byrne, Robert V. Delaney, Ralph B. Frederick, James A. Fuocco, Dr. Alfred W. Harder, Dr. John B. Krom, William A. Krum, James K. Murphy, Frank Laupre and Howard I. Spaulding. Lester E. Decker is scheduled to receive a 45-year award.

Both Kingston Post 150 and Rosendale-Tillon Post were honored during the county session last night.

Sidney Conner, commander of Rosendale-Tillon Post and Commander Sonnenberg accepted the American Legion Post of Distinction national citation. The former won its citation for completing eight out of 10 activities while Kingston won its award on a 100 per cent performance. The citation also is based on exceeding last year's membership total.

Nominations have been made for the full slate of officers and were duly read at the April and May meetings. The nominating committee has consisted of James F. Gilpatrick, chairman; the Rev. Clarence E. Brown, George C. Heppner and William F. Hanley.

Written reports are to be received by all committee chairmen at tonight's meeting.

An installation dinner for the newly-elected officers is planned Saturday night, June 19, at the Legion Home at 7 o'clock. James Marquit, State Legion vice-commander, will be guest speaker and installing officer.

Tickets for the dinner must be obtained before Friday, June 18.

MRS. JOSEPH MICHAEL THOMAS (Photo Workshop)

Sutherland - Thomas Nuptials Announced

On Saturday, June 12, 1965 at 12 o'clock, marriage vows were exchanged during a nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, N. Y., by Miss Barbara Ann Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Sutherland, Tilton, N. Y., and Joseph Michael Thomas, son of George Thomas, 271 Hasbrouck Avenue, Kingston.

Officiating was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent dePaul Mulry, pastor. Thomas Berardi was organist and Donald Sweeney, soloist.

The bride dedicated a bouquet of white roses at the altar of the Blessed Mother, and the couple received the Papal Blessing.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza posed over bridal taffeta the bouffant skirt of which was chapel length. The gown was enhanced with three pliques of alencon lace and three dimensional flowers centered with seed pearls. The stylized head piece secured the triple tiered silk illusion veil. The bride carried a white missal with two orchids, streamers and stephanotis.

Miss Rosemarie Sutherland of Tilton, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pale pink chiffon in sheath style with a removable jacket. A matching pillbox held a tulle streamer veil and she carried an arm bouquet of longstemmed roses.

Mrs. Ronald Dietz of Kingston was matron of honor and Miss Kathleen Duffy, Miss Gloria Blakely and Mrs. William Szymanski Sr., all of Kingston, served as bridesmaids.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Brenda Sutherland of New Paltz, cousin of the bride, and Miss Kathleen Van Buren of Kingston, N. Y., cousin of the bridegroom. They were dressed in pale pink empire style gowns with floor length chiffon skirts. They wore circlets of tiny flowers in their hair and carried nosegays of red roses.

William Szymanski Sr., of Kingston was best man. Ushers were Ronald Dietz, James Mooney, Kenneth Wyman and Robert Finch, all of Kingston. William Szymanski Jr., Kingston, the bridegroom's Godchild, was ringbearer.

A reception for 225 guests was given at The Capri 400 in Port Jervis. Afterwards the couple left on a wedding trip to Bermuda.

Mrs. Thomas was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by IBM in Kingston as a secretary. Her husband was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by the Hudson Cement Company in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will make their home in this city.

Personals

Mrs. Elizabeth Tranker is reported to be convalescing at her home, 49 Henry Street, following surgery at Kingston Hospital.

Demos Will Add $60 Million to Scranton's Bill

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Chairman Martin P. Mullen of the Pennsylvania House Appropriations Committee said today Democrats plan to add about $60 million to Republican Gov. William Scranton's general appropriation bill and send it to the floor next week.

The bill, to which the Senate added $15.8 million, now provides for spending about $1.131 billion for the bulk of government operations in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

No Illusion About Fate Mullen said he expected the House to act quickly on the Democratic version of the bill, but he held no illusions about its fate in the Republican-controlled Senate.

"It will still have to face the Senate and no doubt it will have to go to a conference committee to work out the differences," said Mullen.

Mullen said the additional money would come mainly from tax revenues next year. He said Democrats underestimated the revenues by some $68 million.

Both houses returned to work Monday, but the Senate adjourned after a 45-minute eulogy of Sen. Martin Silvert, D-Philadelphia, who died last Thursday.

In major House action, an administration bill to remove administrative powers from the county boards of assistance was defeated overwhelmingly 74-22. Opponents claimed the 30-minute debate that the plan to make the boards purely advisory would ruin the public assistance program.

Administration supporters argued that the bill would remove political influences from the boards.

Other Highlights

Minimum Wage—House Democrats amended their minimum wage bill downward from $1.50 to $1.25 to conform with federal law.

Harness Tracks—The House defeated 94-104 a measure which would have permitted state employees earning less than $6,000 a year to work at pari-mutuel harness race tracks.

Another harness racing bill, to make permanent a temporary 2 per cent education tax on wagering at Philadelphia tracks was passed.

School Buses—The House unanimously passed and sent to the Senate a bill to require private bus firms to make reduced fares uniform for all school children, public and private.

Highway Safety—Senate majority leader Stanley G. Stroup said the Republican caucus will appoint a five-man committee to draft highway safety legislation within the next few weeks.

Astros Vaulted Over Thousands With Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP)—When President Johnson gave astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II spot promotions to lieutenant colonel, they vaulted over several thousand Air Force officers senior to them, sources said today.

McDivitt and White had been majors only since early December—a little more than six months.

In the normal course, they would have become eligible for promotions in the 1968 fiscal year, and probably would have been considered in fiscal 1970, the Air Force said.

MRS. STEPHEN F. LAFALCE

Dowell-LaFalce Wedding Is Announced

On June 12, 1965 at 8 p. m., marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Adrienne Dowell of Tyler, Tex., and Stephen Frank LaFalce of Kerhonkson in Tyler with the Rev. Dr. W. M. Shamberger officiating.

Miss Jill Watkins was organist and Mrs. Michael Sipe, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dowell of Tyler, Texas. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. A. LaFalce of Kerhonkson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie and carried white gladioli.

She was attended by Miss Tommy Marie Hahn, maid of honor, and Miss Carrie Johnson, Miss Steve Bill and Miss Babs Burleson, all of Waco, Texas, and Miss Jan Dowell, junior bridesmaid. Miss Rhonda Kay Dowell was flower girl and Master Michael Dowell was ringbearer.

Lt. James L. Williams was best man. Ushers were Lt. Richard Wagner, Lt. David Compton and Lt. Harry Knapp.

Mrs. LaFalce is a 1965 graduate of Baylor University with a BA in Art. Her husband was graduated from Colgate University in 1964 with a BA in English and is now a lieutenant with the U. S. Air Force.

Lt. and Mrs. LaFalce will reside in Reno, Nev.

Stratton Is Lone Dissenter on Pay Bill for Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee approved today a $1-billion military pay bill—more than double what President Johnson had proposed.

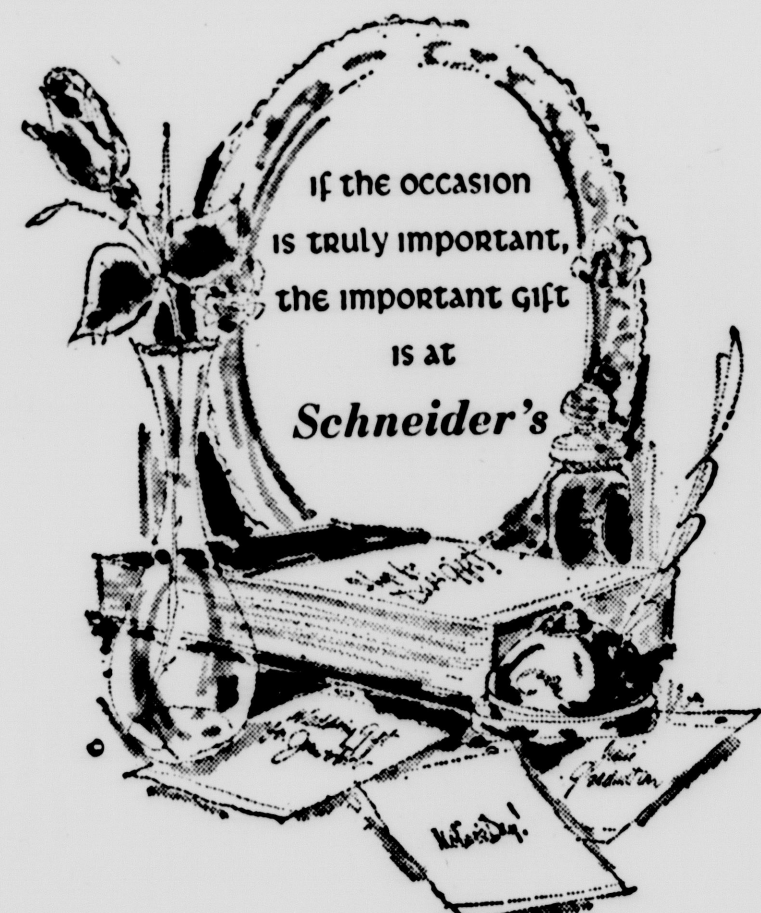

The vote was 33-1 with only Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., voting against it.

In effect, the committee approved the 10.7 per cent average annual pay hike contained in a bill introduced by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., and 33 others of the 37 members of his committee.

But they also included provisions from the administration bill whose proposed pay raises had been denounced by Rivers as "disgracefully inadequate."

What the committee took from the administration bill was a variable re-enlistment bonus and a plan for yearly reviews of military pay.

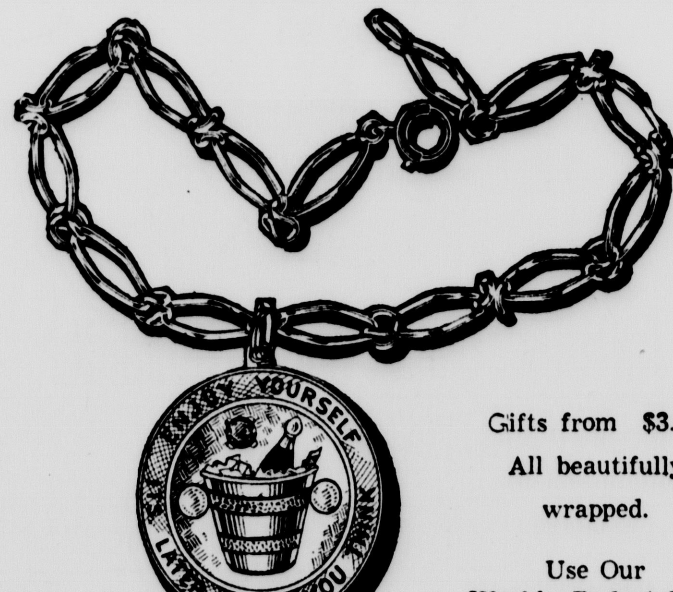

Both these administration proposals had been highly touted by Pentagon officials as a big help in solving the services' retention problem.

Maritime Facing Strike Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph E. Casey, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute, says the maritime industry faces the prospect of "another devastating strike" at midnight tonight.

Federal mediators, however, have expressed hope that a strike against a major segment of the U.S. merchant marine can be averted.

Casey's institute represents 12 major companies that operate 187 ships on regular trade routes.

Casey's statement Monday night came a short time after another shipowner association and a strike-threatening maritime union reached a settlement on wage demands.

The other owner group is the American Maritime Association, representing about 70 owners who operate 300 ships, mostly in the tramp trade.

The contracts of two AFL-CIO unions, representing deck and engineering officers, expire at midnight. Each union represents about 10,000 men.

The unions are the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots (deck officers); and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA).

Negotiations between the deck officers union and ship operators were suspended Monday night when the union's negotiating committee rejected a money offer.

Russians Unveil Mammoth Plane, Could Carry 720

PARIS (AP)—The Soviet Union unveiled today a mammoth transport plane which it said could carry 720 passengers or a payload of 80 tons.

The huge plane, more than five stories tall, landed at Le Bourget Airport for the International Air Show after a nonstop five-hour flight from Moscow.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the plane had a maximum speed of 465 miles an hour and could fly 6,600 miles nonstop with a load of 45 tons.

Tass said it had been named the Antaeus, after a giant in Greek mythology.

The Antaeus is powered by four 15,000-horsepower double-propeller turbo-prop engines mounted on a wing welded into the top of the craft's cabin.

Although the Antaeus is, according to aircraft manufacturing representatives at the air show, the largest plane now in the air, the U.S. Air Force is planning a jet transport which may be even larger.

Douglas, Lockheed and Boeing Aircraft corporations are competing for the contract to build a triple-deck jet transport for the Air Force to be flown for the first time in 1968. Preliminary plans call for a seating capacity of 500-700.

The boy was taken to Ellis Hospital in Schenectady. His mother was dead on arrival at Saratoga Hospital.

The accident occurred at an intersection of Route 50 and a rural road.

Woman Killed in Crash

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Janet Rourke, 33, of Schuylerville, was killed and her son James Jr., 5, was injured critically today in the collision of two automobiles six miles north of here.

The boy was taken to Ellis Hospital in Schenectady. His mother was dead on arrival at Saratoga Hospital.

The accident occurred at an intersection of Route 50 and a rural road.

Criteria Corps Slated for Meet At New Rochelle

The Criteria Drum Corps, who thrilled the largest crowd of the season in Shea Stadium—57,175—last Sunday during Kingston Day, launch their 1965 marching and maneuvering competition season Saturday in New Rochelle.

The corps, which carries the colors of the Kingston American Legion and Newburgh VFW posts, will compete Saturday night at New Rochelle High School field in the "Music Under the Stars" pageant, sponsored by the Wanderers Drum Corps of that city.

Competing against the Criteria will be the Marksmen of Springfield, Mass.; the Connecticut Yankees of Stratford; the Whalers of New Bedford, Mass.; and the Vagabonds of Torrington, Conn. Earlier in the day, the Criteria will march in a district American Legion parade in New Rochelle at 1 p. m.

The corps is scheduled for another competition on June 26 at Aquinas Stadium in Rochester, sponsored by the Rochester Crusaders.

The largest crowd in the major leagues this season gave the Criteria a tremendous ovation after their spectacular performance between the games of the Mets-Dodgers doubleheader last weekend in Shea Stadium.

First Aid Squad Plans Announced

The communities of Kerhonkson and Accord concerned with the discontinuance of ambulance service in the area have scheduled a meeting Thursday 8 p. m. at Kerhonkson Fire Hall to organize an independent first aid rescue squad.

H. B. Humiston Ambulance Service which served the area, announced last week that their service would be discontinued on July 1.

Kerhonkson Fire Chief E. Samuels said all interested members of the community over 21 years of age are invited to attend the planning session. He said 50 volunteers are needed to organize the first aid service.

Chief Samuels said the rescue squad would be an independent service and not connected with any fire company or other organization. He said all community organizations are cooperating in the formation of the volunteer unit.

To expedite matters and provide some form of service after July 1, a training program for the volunteers has already been organized and the first will be held Monday night at a place to be announced. Irving Marcus of the Red Cross will be the instructor.

Those requiring further information may contact Chief Samuels.

Phone Pioneers Will Meet on Wednesday

A two-day assembly of the Eastern Area Council, Telephone Pioneers of America, will open Wednesday at the Gideon Putnam at the Saratoga Spa.

About 70 officials of the organization and their guests are expected to attend, according to Joseph F. Greiser of McKownville, council president.

The Eastern Area Council covers an area from Saratoga Springs to Newburgh. It includes clubs from Albany, Schenectady, Troy, Poughkeepsie and Kingston.

John R. Mulhearn, vice president of New York Telephone's Upstate Territory, is expected to speak at the conference. Other speakers will be Peter J. O'Brien of DeMar, outgoing president of the Upstate Chapter, John C. Macarow of Albany, incoming chapter president, and Frank X. Duggan, a representative of the regional Pioneers organization.

New Council officers to be inducted at the meeting are William Goldsmith of Guilfordland, president and Mrs. Pauline Lynch of Poughkeepsie, vice president.

Dear Abby . . . Do It For Him!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know the Bible says we should honor our father and mother—but how can you honor a father who is so chintzy that he refuses to buy his wife a set of wedding rings, even a cheap set, when he knows that is what she's wanted more than anything else since they were married? They've been married 38 years and have seven children. I am the oldest and I can remember when Mom had to pump the water for the endless washings. She'd iron for two days, hoe the garden, can the vegetables and cook three big meals a day. The house was always spic and span and so were the children. Mom took us all to church while Dad slept. Oh, he had a job, but when his eight hours were through, so was he. Raising the children was Mom's job, and she did it alone.

When I suggested to Dad that he buy Mom a nice set of rings for last Mother's Day, he laughed and said it was a waste of money. Then he went out and bought himself a boat for $400. Dad has five brothers and all their wives have beautiful rings as do his four sisters. Yet he brags that he married Mom with a borrowed ring. I was so upset over this I spoke to our minister about it and he said a man gives his wife rings because he wants to, not because he feels obligated to. What can we do?

THE OLDEST

DEAR OLDEST: If you could succeed in pressuring your father into buying your mother a set of rings, and she knew about it, they wouldn't mean much. Under the circumstances, I see nothing wrong in your children getting together and buying your mother a lovely set of rings. If your father objects, tell him that's what she wanted most.

DEAR ABBY: A new neighbor called my 16-year-old daughter and asked if she would baby sit that evening. Marjorie accepted and went to their home. Shortly after midnight she came home very annoyed. She said when she got there she found the seven-year-old in bed with a temperature. The lady told Marjorie he had a little "headache"—but to keep the other kids away from him as he may have "something catching." She instructed Marjorie to put the Elmer's Inn remained unbeaten with an eighth inning run to win a 3-2 City Baseball League defeat on previously unbeaten Herzog's Construction last night at Dietz Stadium.

With a runner on second and two outs, catcher Rick Sickler dropped a third strike. Sickler fired the ball to third and Paul Gardner, who came over to cover the bag, kicked the ball in to the dugout as the winning run scored.

Prior to that run, the winners had tallied twice in the opening inning on an error and hits by John Eccleston and Jim Williams.

Herzog's got a second inning run on an error and then knotted the count in the seventh on another miscue. This set the stage for the dramatic extra inning.

Vince Fisher, who twirled for the State University freshman team at New Paltz, spaced nine hits to pick up the win. He struck out 14. Gardner lost it and Lennie McAndrew was brought in for the final out.

Tonight at 8:15, Lions Club will oppose the Port Ewen Merchants.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Jim Maloney, Cincinnati, held New York hitless for 10 innings only to give up a home run to Johnny Lewis to start the 11th and another single to Roy McMillan as the Mets blanked the Reds 1-0.

BATTING — Johnny Lewis, New York, broke up Jim Maloney's no-hit, no-run game with a leadoff homer in the 11th inning that gave the Mets a 1-0 victory over Cincinnati and snapped New York's 10-game losing streak.

Maloney's Game His Best Ever

By DON BANDY

CINCINNATI (AP) — "That's baseball I guess," Jim Maloney said softly. "I can't compare this game to any other. It's by far the best I've ever pitched."

Maloney was slumped in his chair. He couldn't recall exactly how it felt to lose after pitching 10 innings of no-hit baseball Monday night against the New York Mets.

The no-hitter came to a sudden halt in the top of the 11th when giant-killer Johnny Lewis, a 250 hitter, slugged a towering home run that gave New York a 1-0 victory over Maloney and the Cincinnati Reds.

Maloney's astonishing performance goes into the record books as 10-inning no-hitter. The 25-year-old fireballing right-hander wound up with a two-hitter as the Mets' Roy McMillan cracked a single moments after the home run.

HIT Fast Ball

"Lewis hit a fast ball," Maloney said quietly, the sweat pouring off his overworked body. "I was just trying to keep the ball in on him and it got out just a little bit."

"He hit the same kind of pitch for a homer off me the last time the Mets were here."

What was going through Maloney's mind as the game wore on?

"I knew I had a no-hitter going and I wanted to pitch a no-hitter," he explained.

"That's what I try to do every time I start."

Maloney then lifted himself painfully from the chair, headed to the showers, but said over his shoulder:

"I'd just as soon win ball games as pitch a no-hitter."

Maloney has flirted with no-hit before, pitching three one-hitters. In his first start this year, April 19 against Milwaukee, he gave up just one hit, a single in the eighth to Denis Menke.

Last year, the Fresno, Calif., native pitched a one-hitter against the Mets, and in 1963 he hurled a one-hitter against the Chicago Cubs.

Joins Nine Others

Maloney joins nine other pitchers who have hurled at least nine innings of no-hit ball, but then lost in extra innings.

Maloney did tie a National League record for an extra-inning game. He fanned 18 to equal the number Warren Spahn, then with the Braves, struck out in 15 innings against Chicago in 1952. Spahn is now with the Mets.

Three of Maloney's strikeouts came at the expense of Lewis, the Mets' right fielder. But in the 11th, Lewis eyed a 2-1 pitch, and slammed it against a center-field extension, just a few feet above the home-run line.

Half of Lewis' round-trippers have been against Cincinnati pitchers, and two of them also helped the Mets beat the Reds in two other games.

"I can't help but feel good," Lewis said. "But it was a heart-breaker for Maloney to lose. He threw good, real good. In fact, I never saw a pitcher throw as hard to me as Maloney did."

The homer didn't appear to shake up Maloney on the mound. He continued throwing hard and struck out Ron Swoboda. Then McMillan lashed a single to center. Maloney ended the inning by getting Jesse Gonder to hit into a double play. But the damage had been done.

Cincinnati made a vain try in its half of the 11th. Frank Robinson singled after two outs, but was stranded as Gordy Coleman grounded out.

Twin Double Is Worth $1,237

MONTICELLO — Last night's Twin Double at the mighty M paid $1,237. Winning combination was 4-2-3-1. A consolation Twin also materialized when the eighth horse in the eighth race, Cassion Corporal, was a late scratch.

A crowd of 3,750 was on hand to wager $278,728.

The featured seventh race, a conditioned $1,400 pace, was won by Yankee Luck as driver George Gilmour scored his third consecutive victory at the mighty M. Gilmour, who won the eighth and ninth races on Saturday night before winning this, his only start thus far last evening, had Yankee Luck up for a head decision in 2:06.4. Gilmour had to thread the four-year-old son of Yankee Hanover. Be Lucky between horses deep in the stretch but was going away at the wire.

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wehle of Scottsville, New York, Yankee Luck returned that day winning his first race $102,000, 6.30, and 3.80 around the board in winning his first race of the year. Second in the one mile test was Count Frost. Phil McGee driving, over Lou Puntillio's Sal's Mite.

Last night's 5 and 5 Daily Double combination paid a low $8.70 when Earl Smith took the first behind Ozark Hanover and then Vince Ferriero did likewise in the second with Irish Stepdancer.

City Softball League

Subway Defeats G-G's, 7-1; Armstrong's, Wimpy's Score

Sizzling Subway Grill, which lost its first two starts of the season, captured its sixth consecutive City Softball League victory last night, defeating G-G's, 7-1, at Loughran Park and giving the losers their initial setback after five straight victories.

In other circuit tests, Armstrong's Eagles walloped Johnny's Service Station, 8-1, and Wimpy's blanked the 35 Club, 2-0.

Bob (Nip) Lasher allowed G-G's only two hits. His mates scored clusters of three in each of the first two frames to make it easy.

Leads the Offense

Bob Gorsline slugged a pair of doubles and a single and

L Champ Holstein had a double

Armstrong's tapped loser Al

Milak for 10 safeties with John

Armstrong's home run, a triple

by George Kithcart and two doubles by Charley Williams showing the way.

Bill Costello surrendered only two hits and fanned nine batters.

Wimpy's broke a scoreless tie with a pair of runs in the fifth to pin a tough defeat on the improved 35 Club entry. The winners had five hits and bunched

most of them in their scoring inning.

Tonight's schedule had Minute Car Wash meeting Gordis

Hose at Upper Hasbrouck.

Jersey Player Chess Champion

A Union, N. J. player, Norman Hurltlen, posted a score of 4 1/2-1 1/2 to capture the Fifth Annual Hudson Valley Open Chess tournament against a crack field of 32 players at Woodstock.

Second place went to Stanley Perlo of Croton-on-Hudson, 4-1.

Five players, including U. S. Junior champion John Meyer of Woodstock, a member of Kings Knight Chess Club, shared a five-way tie for third place with 3 1/2-1 1/2.

Meyer's brother Eugene Meyer, triumphed over Sal Matera of Brooklyn and won the trophy awarded for the best player under 18.

Sponsored by Kings Knight Chess, the tournament was directed by Donald Schultz of Poughkeepsie, who won the event in 1963. International Grand Master William Lombardy of Yonkers, the 1963 U. S. Open Champion, was among the many visitors.

Schultz announced that the annual Hudson Valley League tournament would begin in about a month.

Players interested in competing as members of the Kings Knight Chess Club are invited to visit or join the club. Meetings are held Fridays at 8 p. m. at the Elks Club on Fair Street.

New Paltz Leads In Trapshooting

New Paltz scored a total of 2900 targets to lead clubs in the first swing of the 1965 Ulster County Trapshooting circuit.

Walker Valley was second with 2250, followed by Glasco, 2000; Wawarsing 1650 and Lake Katrine, 1625.

The next shoot is scheduled for June 16 at the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club facilities in St. Remy. It will be a two-night shoot.

Because of vandalism suffered by the Glasco Gun Club, the shoot regularly scheduled for Glasco on June 27 will be held at the New Paltz Sportsmen's Club.

All trapshooters are welcome to participate in circuit events and newcomers are always provided expert guidance and instruction.

P. VanWey was the top individual shooter, breaking 95 targets in 100 shots for a .950 average. S. Gomes was second with 337-400-943.

Others included G. Ellsworth, 94-100-940; C. Fidow, 207-225-920; J. Weed, 206-225-915; E. Hickey, 235-325-908; J. Feischel, 136-150-907; A. Nantz, 113-125-904; T. Gressi, 110-125-889; R. Anderson, 173-200-865; D. Hurley, 108-125-864; F. Mauro, 294-350-840.

Economy Doing Fine, Is Report Of LBJ, Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Democratic congressional leaders agreed today that the nation's economy is in good shape.

The leaders reported this after a breakfast meeting with Johnson at the White House.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said Johnson called attention to the latest figures on employment, at a record high in May, and average factory pay, also at a record high.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was asked his opinion of the cause of the decline in stock market prices recently. He replied that "nobody knows what causes Wall Street to react, adding:

"The country is sound and that's what counts."

McCormack discounted criticism of administration policy in Viet Nam, saying "The American people are overwhelmingly behind the President."

Officer Clarifies Muddle of Income Tax Quandaries

Administrative Officer, Victor A. Scelleppi announced today that the following questions are ones that have been most frequently asked at the Kingston Internal Revenue Office in the past month.

Question — I pay a maid $5 a week for some part-time work. Instead of deducting 3% per cent of her wages for Social Security, can't I just pay the full 7 1/2 per cent myself at the end of the quarter when the report is due?

Answer — Yes, you may. Your responsibility as a household employer is to send in the social security taxes due each quarter with a tax return on Form 942 when the wages paid amount to $50 or more in a calendar quarter. Whether or not you pay the maid's portion of the amount due is up to you.

Question — My refund check arrived and I think a mistake was made. Whom should I contact, my district office or the office that sent me the check?

Answer — Inquiries about refunds or on any matter relating to your return should be directed to your local Internal Revenue office. The office issuing your check is a central disbursing office and does not handle other aspects of tax administration.

Question — We're planning our vacation trip this summer to take in several of our National Parks. A good part of our travel will be by air. Is the tax on plane tickets deductible?

Answer — No, it is not. This is a federal excise tax and such taxes are not deductible.

Question — I just got a promotion and a sizable raise. How can I make sure that I will not be underwithheld next year?

Answer — You can reduce your low as zero, if necessary. If your withholding is still not enough, you can arrange with your employer to have additional amounts withheld from your paycheck. If you also file a declaration of estimated tax, you may file an amended declaration and increase your quarterly payments.

Scelleppi said that if taxpayers have any further income tax problems, the Kingston office will be open for assistance between the hours of 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. on Monday of each week.

Syracuse Mayor Heads Conference

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Mayor William F. Walsh of Syracuse was elected president today of the New York State Conference of Mayors.

He succeeded Mayor James J. DeJohn of Silver Creek.

Other officers chosen at the group's annual meeting were: James P. Rice of Suffern, first vice president, and John H. Corners of Mechanicville, second vice president.

Mayor Erastus Corning II of Albany was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

tical purposes, the Vietnamese command will have to cede at least some of its control to the foreign ally.

American officers argue that increased American control will improve efficiency and inject a new fighting spirit into the exhausted forces now facing the Viet Cong.

Working on Details

Many Vietnamese argue that an American army in Viet Nam will look too much like a French army and will turn increasing numbers of Vietnamese away from the government and toward the Viet Cong.

They also feel the Vietnamese army will tend to shrug its shoulders and say, "Why get killed now? The outcome depends on what the Americans do, not on us."

Regarding future joint Vietnamese-American military operations, American officials say, "Details are still being worked out."

Historian Rejects Marxist Dogma About Wall Street

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet historian has created a sensation by saying it is wrong to picture American society in traditional terms of oppressed workers and upper classes ruled by monopolists. She also rejected time-honored Marxist dogma about "Wall Street monopolists."

Evgenia I. Popova, 47, submitted her study "The U.S.A. and the Washington System," as a doctoral dissertation at a meeting Monday in the Moscow University Pedagogical Institute.

In years past, Miss Popova would have been fired for such views. But one professor hailed her analysis as an innovation in Soviet history.

Other professors and members of the Soviet Academy of Sciences called her study the most interesting in the field in several years.

"Unfortunately, up until recently, Soviet history has tended to lump imperialists into one group and treat them with differentiation and unobjectively," she said.

"The concept of the constant sharpening of contradictions within the imperialist camp has not taken into account evidence that the imperialists have successfully resolved disputes at various stages in the past in such cases as the West European Common Market."

"The view that the American government is the servant of Wall Street monopolists in many respects hampers an understanding of the important role of public opinion in the United States."

"It would be understood that the Washington government must also take into account the views of its allies, the changing conditions in international affairs and the demands of public opinion."

Her study deals with events leading to the Washington conference of 1921 where the United States sought an agreement of Western powers on arms limitation.

Plaza Merchants Greet Walgreens To Shopping Mart

Kingston Plaza Merchants Association in a statement today welcomed the Walgreen Drug Store to the Kingston Plaza Shopping Center. The new store opened on Monday.

Donald J. Wright, association president said Walgreens is now a member of the local association.

He said, the association feels the opening of the ultra-modern drug store is an asset to the shopping center and takes great pride in announcing their membership in the association.

Since the Merchants Association has been formed, he said, much progress has been made in making Kingston Plaza, "The Shopping Center of the Area."

The center now features a supermarket, laundromat, gift shop, commercial bank, trading stamp redemption center, a drug store, shoe store, ladies apparel shop, fabric center, and a modern department store.

Wright continued, "Great response has been shown to the parking lot activities sponsored by the association such as the carnival, square dance, block party and dog exhibition."

Other events are planned for the summer, he said.

DeWitt Is Freed Of Charge Today

A charge of driving while intoxicated against Frederick DeWitt, 75, of Box 137 Hasbrouck Avenue, Port Ewen, was dismissed in city court today because of insufficient proof.

The charge was lodged May 26 after a two-car mishap at Foxhall and Hasbrouck Avenues. The other car, police said, was driven by Edward William DeCicco, 16, of 200 Lincoln Street.

Officers Anthony Turck and Patrick Colbert investigated.

Edward R. Cooper, 19, of Port Ewen, charged with driving a car with more than three persons in the front seat, was fined $10.

Gets Life Sentence

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Kenneth E. Dudley, a one-time carnival worker, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the slaying of a barber's wife 16 years ago.

Dudley, 51, was convicted last Wednesday of killing Mrs. Alberta Mary Vella in 1949 and burying her body in a dump near Bridgeport.

Dudley, under a 20-year prison sentence in Virginia for the starvation death of a daughter, had been returned here last year after police, acting on what they said was information supplied by Dudley and his wife, Irene, uncovered Mrs. Vella's remains.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading was the heaviest in nearly 28 years as the stock market took a terrific pounding followed by a vigorous, churning recovery which canceled a good part of the losses early this afternoon.

Stocks were unloaded in what brokers called emotional selling, then many losses were cut and some gains established for some leading issues.

But the general list remained considerably lower on average. Some Wall Streeters attributed part of the recovery drive to news that President Johnson and Democratic congressional leaders agreed today that the nation's economy is in good shape.

First-hour volume of 2.06 million shares, according to the New York Stock Exchange, was the biggest first-hour total since Oct. 19, 1937 when 2.21 million shares changed hands.

For the first two hours, volume was 4.15 million shares, more than double the 2.01 million shares of Monday's first two hours.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.4 at 316.3 with industrials off 1.9, rails off .4 and utilities off 1.0.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 2.13 at 866.58, having recovered from a loss of 6.60 only a half hour earlier.

General Motors cut a loss of nearly 2 to a point and a fraction. United Aircraft substituted a loss exceeding a point for a net gain of about the same size.

DuPont still showed a loss of almost a point.

Prices declined in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds were stronger.

Cancer Society

New York State Division, ACS are: Mrs. Roumelis, Dr. Kirk and Mrs. Koenig. A delegate is the voice of the units in the affairs of the division.

Mrs. Roumelis, chairman of the Public Education Committee, gave the following report: During the past four months 149 films were shown to an approximate audience of 19,920 viewers. This includes special emphasis on "Breast, Self - Examination."

Shown to approximately 2,000 women during March and April. About 3,475 students in schools and colleges were reached with the film and filmstrip on smoking.

Plans are underway for an accelerated program in this area. Mrs. Roumelis also commented on the new handbook "Biology Experiments" produced by the American Cancer Society, which will be available to science teachers in the hope of encouraging qualified young people interested in this field.

There have been 25 public education programs during this reporting period and 47,835 pieces of literature have been distributed. Included in this was the booth at the Lion's Exposition held at the Kingston Armory.

Comments Women's Groups

Dr. Kirk, service chairman, commented on the very fine job of organization done by women's groups throughout the county during the special film showings of Breast, Self-Examination. He reported that he had conducted classes for practical nurses, combining the newly formed classes of Practical Nursing at the Kingston High School with the Licensed Practical Nurses at the two hospitals, using the ACS booklet, "A Cancer Guide for Practical Nurses."

A letter had been written to the County Medical Society urging the use of ACS literature on smoking in doctor's offices. He spoke of plans to organize a meeting of the Medical Society with special emphasis on cancer detection, having as guest speaker a doctor on the New York State Division's Board of Directors.

During the last four months the following dressings had been made and distributed by volunteers throughout the county: 11,842 dressings were made, and 9,450 distributed. Nineteen trips were made for three patients receiving treatment at the Tumor Clinic.

Guest speaker at the luncheon meeting was William W. Pinkel, executive vice president of the New York State Division, American Cancer Society, who lauded the local unit for the very fine leadership and outstanding efforts in the overall programs of cancer control.

Before adjourning the meeting, Svirsky thanked those in attendance for the fine turn-out, and expressed heartfelt thanks on behalf of the board to the editors of newspapers and program directors of the local radio stations for the very fine coverage during the recent Crusade.

A special report on the final outcome of the drive will be released as soon as all monies are in.

Held on Drug Charge

William Corye, 32, alias William Corye, of 905 Tremont Avenue, Bronx, was arrested at Greenwald Park Monday and held in the Ulster County Jail for Nassau County police. He is charged in Nassau County with selling a narcotic drug. The charge contains three counts. It is alleged he sold heroin. Corye was picked up by Ulster County Investigator Thomas Maynone and a State Narcotic Agent from Albany at the Grand Mountain Hotel, Greenfield, where he was employed as a handy man. Detectives from Mineola picked up Corye and returned him to Nassau County to face the charge.

Wide Area Is Under Cool Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chilly weather continued across Northern areas from the Midwest into New England today and more rain splashed across sections in the Southeast and West.

The mercury dropped to freezing early today at Marquette, Mich., and to the upper 30s in parts of upstate New York. Generally fair weather prevailed in the cool belt, except in most of New England.

Fairly heavy rain fell in parts of the western Carolinas, including more than 1 1/2 inches at Greenville in a six-hour period Monday. Earlier thunderstorms swept across areas from the south Atlantic states to the lower Missouri and lower Mississippi valleys.

$3.68 Milk Price

NEW YORK (AP)—A uniform farm price of $3.68 per hundred-weight (46.5 quarts) will be paid for milk delivered to pool plants in the New York-New Jersey milkshed in May, it was announced Monday.

The April farm price was $3.87 and the May, 1964, price was $3.62.

The May producer butterfat differential will be computed at the rate of six cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

Milk production in May was at a record high of 1,191,567,028 pounds over the previous record of 1,187,951,613 pounds established in May, 1964.

The farm value of the May pool was at $45,100,646.17. However, this does not include all differentials paid to dairy farmers.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Narcotics Topic At Garden Club

The Woodstock Garden Club

has joined with the Woodstock Township Chamber of Commerce and the Business and Professional Women's Club of Ulster County in advocating action and legislation to combat the problem of narcotics in every township in Ulster County.

"The citizens of Woodstock are saddened and deeply shocked at the recent bad publicity our wonderful community has received, due to statements heard over the radio and published in the newspapers by a local youth," a club statement said today.

"These statements should be thoroughly investigated by the proper authorities and, if found to be the truth, we should all join to help wipe out this 'scourge' that has blackened our community," the statement added.

The statement went on to say "it is unfair to all the fine families of Woodstock to present this problem as purely of Woodstock origin."

Could Have Been Nipped

"We are a culturally outstanding community which dates back many years, with no history of narcotics addiction," the statement added. "It is the consensus of almost all the citizens that if this was known to be prevalent five years ago, as the youth's father said, it could have saved many families and sons and daughters the agony that accompanies drug addiction."

In other business at its June meeting, the Garden Club expressed thanks to persons in the community who assisted the club in planting on the War Memorial on the Village Green for the Memorial Day observance.

Thanks were directed specifically to Lawrence Deede of Woodstock Post 1026 of the American Legion for preparing the soil for the planting; the American Legion Auxiliary for their donation of $15.00 to help defray cost of the flowers; to Mrs. Sara Mulligan, advisor of the Woodstock Youth Center, and four teenagers who did the actual planting of every flower around the memorial — Charles Steinlauf, Daniel Wells, David Carlson and Jeremy Wilbur.

Steamboat Buffs Have Treat Ahead

Hudson River steamboat buffs

and collectors of local historical material will find much to enthrall over at the Colony Arts Center antiques show at Woodstock, New York, July 2 through 4, when a collection of early steamboat pictures will be exhibited and sold.

The photographs were taken originally by H. C. Dederick, who became quite well known for his Hudson River studies in the late 1890s. Dederick's collection of negatives and prints were lost until last year when they were found in a farmhouse attic near Hudson, New York. The most interesting ones will be exhibited and sold at the Colony show.

Many famous steamboats that are still remembered for their pleasant means of transportation and important contribution to the commerce of Hudson River cities and towns are included in the long list of photographs offered. The Mary Powell, the Washington Irving, Robert Fulton, Ontario, Kaaterskill, Albany, Trojan, Homer Ramsdell, City of Hudson, are all included.

Other steamboat items such as the Dayline magazine, time tables, advertisements and historical data related to more than a hundred and fifty boats, some of it quite scarce and presented for sale for the first time at the Colony Arts Center antiques show.

More than 25 dealers are represented in the show now in its sixth season.

Garden Club Slates

Bake and Cake Sale

Woodstock Garden Club will stage a plant and bake sale Saturday, June 19, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon on the porch of the Guild of Craftsmen in Woodstock.

Mrs. Arthur Jones is chairman of the event. All plants will be specimens grown by the Garden Club horticulturists and all breads, cakes, pies and salads will be homemade by the members. The public is invited.

Lt. Col. Killed In B58 Crash At Paris Show

PARIS (AP) — A U.S. Air Force B58 jet bomber crashed on landing at Le Bourget Airport today before thousands at an international air show. One of its three crew members perished.

The Air Force had issued a statement saying all three crew members had been killed. Later a French hospital reported it had two survivors of the crash. A hospital attaché identified one as Maj. Harold Covington of Jacksonville, Ark.

Air Force authorities at Le Bourget said it had arrived from the U.S. Air Force Base at Terrejon, Spain. First reports said the B58, America's fastest medium-range bomber, had come from the United States.

The Air Force identified the officer killed as Lt. Col. Charles Hubbs, the pilot. The other injured man was Maj. Vincent Carabas. All were reported to be from near Little Rock, Ark. The plane had just completed a demonstration run over the field. Control-tower employees said it appeared one of its engines fell off during the landing approach.

The plane crashed with a thunderous roar which shattered wings and fuselage and burst into flames. One engine, some distance from the aircraft, belched flames.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen was in the crowd that saw the crash.

The B58 is a strategic medium-range bomber with a speed in excess of 1,300 miles per hour. It was the second B58 Hustler to crash during an international air show in Paris. In 1961 another B58 crashed shortly after it made a fly-past before thousands of spectators. All the crewmen were killed.

USAF Has Openings In Air Traffic Control

One of the Air Force's most essential services, control of air traffic, has openings today for young men qualified and selected for assignment to the Air Traffic Control Career Field, according to Sergeant Robert A. Milling, local U.S. Air Force representative.

This exciting and interesting career field includes a host of important life-saving jobs. They include directing takeoffs and landings of aircraft during all kinds of weather and aircraft spacing while in flight.

Anyone wishing further details on this career field, or on any of the more than 40 other fields open to young men and women on Aerospace Team, should contact their U.S. Air Force recruiter, Sergeant Milling at 597 Broadway.

School Pupils In Choir Show

A group of 72 pupils from the Woodstock Elementary School presented a program of choral music Monday to the pupils of the Stone Ridge Elementary School.

The Woodstock contingent consisted of choruses of fourth and fifth grade pupils in addition to members of the sixth and seventh grades.

The children were assisted by Mrs. Robert Stedje, director; Mrs. Robert Riffenberg, pianist and Mrs. Katherine Stowe, guest soloist. The three ladies were presented with corsages by girls of the Stone Ridge school.

The Woodstock children had offered the same program previously at Woodstock May 12.

Christen Science

Theme: Evolution

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Bible Lesson to be heard at Christian Science services throughout the world on Sunday.

Scriptural passages will include this verse from Isaiah: "I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known; I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight." The concluding Bible citation is from Revelation: "And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new."

The theme will be taken up further in readings from the Christian Science textbook: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development." Spiritual evolution alone is worthy of the exercise of divine power. (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, pp. 547, 135).

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m. All are welcome.

Rail Storage Shed Fire Apparently Set on Purpose

A fire of apparent incendiary origin destroyed a storage shed on West Shore Railroad property off Flatbush Avenue Monday night, and a truck driver suffered burns of the right hand in his attempt to douse a fire in the afternoon.

Units from Central Station and the Wicks Company answered the call for the fire on the railroad property at 11 p. m. with Deputy Chief Robert W. Hardwick in charge. It was first reported a brush fire, but when firemen arrived they found the small storage structure fully involved in flame.

A utility pole became involved and the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. was notified.

A fire believed to have started from a short circuit damaged the front seat of a panel truck owned by the Nelson Construction Co., of Highland, and operated by Eugene Odell, of Box 81, Rosendale, who suffered burns of the right hand in an attempt to check the blaze. He was to be treated by a doctor. The call at 12:30 p. m. was to Hone near German Street. Central Station responded and Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholtz was in charge.

Driver Gets Summons

The operator of one of two cars involved in an accident Monday in Hurley was charged with making an unsafe turn and will have a hearing later. A car owned by Gerald Gormley of 253 Lucas Avenue, operated by Francis Fiore, Rt. 3, Box 111-B, Kingston, was making a left turn at the Hurley turnoff from north lane on Route 209 and a pickup truck operated by Joseph Aloy, Rt. 2, Red Hook, was proceeding south on Route 209. The two vehicles collided and Fiore was issued a summons by Deputy Sheriff John Tudy and Daniel Levy, who investigated.

Manslaughter Plea

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph P. Rinaldi, 22, of Syracuse pleaded guilty today to a charge of first-degree manslaughter in the shooting last December of Elmer Hill.

Rinaldi was indicted February 18 on charges of first-degree murder and first-degree manslaughter.
